W. A. WOLFE DECLARED SANE

JURY DECIDES PRISONER MUST FACE COURT ON MURDER COUNT

Verdict is Returned After 50 Minutes' Deliberation.

TRIAL DEC. 15

Charged With Killing Mrs. Flora Dearth, Restaurant Owner.

William A. Wolfe, 37, East End clay miner, is sane and must stand trial for second degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Flora Dearth, 52, Mulberry street restaurant owner, a jury decided in common pleas court, Lisbon, late yesterday afternoon, following a two-day hearing to determine his responsibility.

The verdict was returned following 50 minutes' deliberation by six men and six women comprising the jury.

Prisoner Shows No Emotion. The alleged gun wielder, who attempted to commit suicide following the fatal shooting of Mrs. Dearth, will go on trial on Monday, December 26, Prosecuting Attorney J. C. Hanley announced.

Wolf, who was returned to the county jail following the sanity hearing, showed no emotion when the jury's verdict was read by Clerk of Courts John T. Burns.

The charge to the jury by Judge Carl H. Smith of Steubenville, required but 10 minutes, and had to do entirely with the law in the case.

Begin Preparation of Case.

Attorneys Frank E. Grosshans of East Liverpool and Walter W. Beck of Lisbon, who were appointed by Judge Charles S. Turnbaugh of Guernsey county, to defend Wolfe, began to prepare for the trial within an hour after the prisoner was declared sane.

Likewise Prosecuting Attorney J. C. Hanley and his assistant, Robert M. Brookes, began preparation of the state's case.

Indications, judging from the progress of the sanity hearing, are the murder trial will be short, court attaches said.

The defense counsel plan to visit Meigs county within the next few days for the purpose of seeking witnesses to testify in behalf of their client when the case is called. The life history of Wolfe will be revealed at the trial.

Ireland is Facing Winter of Misery; Scores Starving

GUBLIN, Dec. 3—Ireland is facing a winter of misery and some persons predict a repetition of the desolate "Black 47." That was the year of the potato famine.

Crops this year have been largely failures, due to heavy rains. There is an extreme shortage of the peat used for fuel. Poverty has reached an acute stage and reports are coming to Dublin of deaths through starvation.

The council of the unemployed has taken possession of an old, dismantled church in one of the districts of Dublin, where suffering is keen. In this edifice the council attempts to feed approximately 1,500 persons weekly. On one side of what used to be the pulpit, a makeshift cook stove has been installed. The stove pipe, held together by pieces of string, carries the smoke through an open window. The staple food is bread and butter with tea. When funds permit, boiled meat is served. Money to maintain this kitchen is collected in tin cans in the streets, passers-by being asked to give on the plea that "a penny may save a life."

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—The arrival here of the Broadway Limited revealed today that pretty and intrepid Mrs. Dorothy Martin Hillman had successfully eluded emissaries trying to stop her from running away to Europe from her husband of a month, Edwin Hillman, Jr., son of a department store owner. Mrs. Hillman was not on the train when it arrived. Persons waiting for her presumed she alighted in Philadelphia.

Mr. Coolidge was actuated in his decision to dispense with a private car and a special train solely by consideration of economy.

The railroad companies exact a rental of $90 a day for a private car, and in addition require $25 fare to be purchased for the car. On a long journey this amounts to a tidy sum.

Furthermore 25 persons obviously cannot be accommodated in the president's private car.

Cuts Cost of Trip.

When Mr. Coolidge was apprised of these figures, the Coolidge pencil got busy. A few minutes' figuring disclosed that by going "regular" on a regular train, the entire trip would cost the white house but slightly over $500.

Here was a saving of approximately $1,700.

The president decided that it was his duty to save this amount for the government, thereby setting a personal example of the economy that he has steadily preached to the country.

An annual allowance of $26,000 is provided for presidential travel.

Attorney W. H. Vodrey, who has been negotiating for the purchase of the Conant property by the railroad interests, told council that he had closed the deal and would deed the land to the city as soon as final details are completed.

The city will raze the building on the site and construct a 40 foot connecting link between Broadway and East Second street. presidents in recent years have used it all—some of them more, which came out of their salaries. Taft did regularly, Wilson did until he fell ill.

Wisdom of Plan Debated.

The wisdom of Mr. Coolidge to travel as an ordinary passenger and save this $1,700 however became a subject of heated debate in official circles today. Some warmly applauded him for setting an example of thrift to the country, and said if such a spirit could be communicated to all in the government service the National debt would show greater reduction, and taxes would be less burdensome.

On the other hand, his decision came in for some equally warm criticism.

There were those who held that the American public liked and expected to see its chief executives travel in dignity that goes with the office, and in the safety and comfort that the law has thrown around the Presidency.

Criticism Has Little Effect.

These latter held that economy is all right in its place, but that for a saving of $1,700, a president of the United States should not subject himself to the inconveniences—if not perils—that are incident to ordinary travel.

This criticism, adverse and favorable, has reached Mr. Coolidge's ears. It has really beaten about his ears since the announcement was made of his decision to go to China as an ordinary passenger.

It has had little effect, however. Mr. Coolidge is going to "try it once anyway." And meanwhile he is going to save $1,700. The National Capital is profoundly interested in the experiment.

The city's quota in the drive is $2,200, or ten seals for each man, woman and child.

One $50 bond has been sold.

Because of the desire of bankers and merchants to use the seals on their December mail, Mrs. James Hill and Mrs. John Bowers, acting as an advance guard, have completed their part of the work.

Inasmuch as meetings are held bi-weekly by many organizations, the committee does not expect complete reports from lodges for two weeks.

is pointed out that the brick and other waste material coming from the structure will go a long way toward making the fill, which is necessary before the street can be improved.

Vodrey Closes Deal.

The property is part of the original land grant made by the United States government to Isaac Craig, back in 1798. It was purchased by Josiah Thompson, father of John C. Thompson, in 1858, when the present building was erected. Mr. Thompson conducted a dry goods business in the structure for many years. The upper floors of the building have been used as apartments in recent years. The store rooms on the main floor and in the basement have been vacant.

The railroad company has been using a part of the lots on which the building stands for many years, without holding a deed for the same. Mr. Vodrey will deed that section used by the railroad right of way to the company when he turns the remaining part over to the city.

Council authorized Mr. Vodrey to proceed with the deal in keeping with the plan outlined and also extended him a vote of thanks for his efforts.

Four-day Services By Salvation Army Begin on Thursday

Special services will be held at the Salvation Army Citadel, Thursday evening and over the weekend. Adjutant John G. Dean announced today.

Brigadier A. W. Ballie, divisional commander, accompanied by Envoy Carey, Envoy Waggoner and Captain Hepburn, all of the Cleveland headquarters, will conduct the Thursday evening services.

Staff Captain F. Croft, Cleveland, divisional Young People's secretary, will have charge of the Saturday evening and Sunday services. He will give special attention to the young people's work, holding conferences with the Corp Cadets and Girl Guards during the day. He will be in charge of the enrollment of the junior soldiers at an afternoon service and of the senior soldiers at the evening service on Sunday.

Monroe Patterson Memorial Services At Kiwanis Meet

"Monroe Patterson, as a Kiwanian" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Rev. Lionel C. Difford, pastor of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church, at a special memorial service to be conducted by the Kiwanis club in connection with the weekly meeting at the Larkins Annex, Market street, Thursday noon.

Favorite hymns of Mr. Patterson will be rendered by the Kiwanis chorus under the leadership of Prof. Hugh Laughlin. The meeting will be in charge of President Olen Dawson.

The nominating committee, appointed to select candidates for the board of directors and other club officers, probably will make its report at tomorrow's meeting.

LUMBER VESSEL REPORTED AFIRE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—An unidentified vessel, believed to be a lumber schooner, was reported afire early today two miles off Gaviota, 20 miles north of Santa Barbara, by Captain Deihlgren, commander of the steamer Harvard, in a wireless message to the San Pedro officials of the Radio Corporation of America.

Tractor snow-plows for sidewalks are being manufactured.

MAIL EARLY, IS U. S. HINT

Postmaster McClure Makes Christmas Suggestions.

"Do Your Christmas Mailing Early" was the appeal sent out today by thousands of postal workers throughout the United States in an effort to avoid the congestion which usually occurs during the yuletide season.

Postmaster Edwin McClure made suggestions which he urges patrons of the local office practice in an effort to expedite the delivery of mails during the holiday rush.

His suggestions are:

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed in order to reach their destination in good condition. In wrapping ordinary parcels strong paper and heavy twine should be used.

Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around, and between the articles and the outside container.

"All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked FRAGILE.

"Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels PERISHABLE. Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

"Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post-office box or rural number, typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left-hand corner of every piece of mail.

"Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right-hand corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel post or stamp window.

Opinions, nor dragged into litigation without its consent.

3—The United States should remain "outside" the League of Nations.

4—Some revision of existing immigration to allow those aliens already here more latitude in bringing in their relatives.

5—Disposition of Muscle Shoals to private interests, either by outright sale or long term lease. A sub-committee of congress to be appointed to consider bids.

6—No extensive tinkering with the railroads, but encouragement of further consolidations into fewer systems. If the Railway Labor board cannot be improved upon, it should be left alone.

7—Amendment of present election laws to provide equal representation of the parties on election boards and boards of registration.

8—Reconsideration by Congress of the whole government shipping problem.

9—Continued development of waterways and reclamation projects within the limits of the general economy program.

10—Extension of the life of the American debt funding commission now trying to fund the $7,000,000 unsecured war loans.

11—Some revision of judicial procedure to relieve court congestion and expedite justice.

12—Conversion of Postmasters of the first three classes and of prohibition enforcement officers into the Civil Service.

13—Sympathetic consideration of legislation for disabled veterans.

Message is Read by Clerks.

The agricultural situation, the president said, has greatly improved since he last addressed congress. He pointed out that natural economic laws, reduced production and increased consumption have added billions to the farmer's pocketbooks, referred to his agricultural investigating commission now at work, and said he would defer definite recommendations until it has reported to him its findings.

It was one of the few times in recent years that an annual message from the executive has not been delivered in person. Mr. Coolidge's message was read in both houses by reading clerks. The galleries were crowded, but the absence of any personal appeal detracted somewhat from the usual glamour and color incident to presidential utterances.

The president made an indirect reference to the furor the Japanese press is raising over the proposed American fleet maneuvers in Hawaiian waters.

Emphasize Tax Burden Cut.

After speaking America's determination not to engage in any army or navy competitions with other nations, he said:

"I am especially solicitous that foreign nations should comprehend the candor and sincerity with which we have adopted this position."

"While we propose to maintain defensive and supplementary policies by land and sea and to train them through inspections and maneuvers upon appropriate occasions . . . I wish every other nation to understand that this does not express unfriendliness or convey hostile intent."

The state of the nation generally, is excellent, Mr. Coolidge told Congress. It only remains for the country to go along its present pathway of paying its debts, diminishing its expenditures, and reducing the tax burden, in order to face the future with confidence. It was on these matters that he placed the greatest emphasis.

Postmaster Edwin McClure made suggestions which he urges patrons of the local office practice in an effort to expedite the delivery of mails during the holiday rush.

"Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right-hand corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel-post or stamp window.

"Christmas gifts and cards addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 20; within two days travel, not later than December 18; within three days travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22.

PARCELS AND ENVELOPES MAY BE INDORSED "PLEASE DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS."

"The early mailing of Christmas cards is just as important as parcels. Millions of these cards separate and in envelopes, are mailed each Christmas. Consequently, great congestion and delay occurs in large post offices, where they are all mailed within a day or two of Christmas. Therefore, if you want your Christmas greetings to reach your relatives and friends on or before Christmas Day, follow the instructions in the preceding paragraph relative to mailing early and be certain of delivery before Christmas."

police measure is wrong, let's repeal it and pass this ordinance, but let the mayor say first how many plain clothes men he wants and not leave this matter up to council."

Solon Hayes declared that he was not familiar with the terms of the ordinance, having heard nothing of it until he reached the meeting. He said that he was opposed to it until he had further information as to the need of such detectives.

Councilman Farrall, at this point, charged council with holding secret caucus sessions without his knowledge.

If we are going to caucus, let's meet at the city building and let all of council take part," he said. Mr. Hayes denied any knowledge of the so-called special caucus sessions.

After Councilman Chambers' motion had been declared lost because it lacked a second, Farrall and Kerr supported a motion that the ordinance be tabled for the present time.

They were supported in the move by Councilman Hayes, Larcombe and Rowe. Councilman Eardley was not present at the meeting.

Order Stoves Installed.

Under suspension of the rules, council adopted a resolution authorizing the mayor to borrow $70,000, representing the property holders' share of the cost of half a dozen or more street and sewer improvement projects undertaken this summer. This money was borrowed in anticipation of the collection of assessments.

Council also voted to permit residents on the township side of Harbor Avenue to attach their property to the East End sanitary sewer provided they pay the assessment required of property holders within the city limits.

The service director was instructed to install one gas and two coal heating stoves in the city hall immediately.

The coal stoves will go to the women's department and the ante-room to the mayor's office, while the gas stove will be placed in the council chamber.

Due to the lack of urgent matters, council voted to eliminate the regular meeting on December 12 and will not meet again until December 26. President Capenhurst was instructed to call a special meeting of the solons in the interim should it be necessary.

tributed and 238 meals to have been furnished in addition to the Christmas dinners. Groceries valued at $654.64 were distributed; 184 Christmas baskets given out and 3,200 copies of the War Cry and other periodicals distributed free of charge.

Persons professing conversion numbered 363.

The income during the year totaled $9,069.66, which together with $1,465.82 left over from the preceding year, made $10,166.48 available. The expenses during the year were $9,481.13, leaving a balance in the fund of $979.35 on October 1. Relief work including money spent at Christmas, required about $2,187.35. Salaries amounted to but $1,842.61, while $794.86 was spent in division work and $216.69 in young people's activities.

COLLECT FINES, SOLONS' PLAN

City Will Go After
$1,000 in John Donohue Case.

That the city should take immediate steps toward the collection of fines assessed by Mayor James S. Barnes against John Donohue, retaining an attorney if council deems such action necessary, was the unanimous opinion of the municipal lawmakers at their short session last night.

Donohue was fined a total of $2,000 and costs in police court here on liquor charges and he appealed the decision to common pleas court. Only recently, the upper court sustained the ruling of Mayor James S. Barnes, and, as a result, the city assumes the position of creditor. According to Mayor Barnes' interpretation, the total amount of the fines would be split with the state and the city sharing.

It was argued by solons that $1,000 should not be allowed to remain in idleness and that little time should be wasted in efforts to find a resting place for it in the municipal coffers.

Attention to litigation in the fare increase case in supreme court in Washington, D. C., kept Solicitor George D. Ingram away from last night's meeting.

Upon his return he will be taken into conference immediately with Councilmen C. C. Ewing, George White and Frank Kerr, committee named last night by President Frank Blackburn, for the purpose of clearing up, as far as possible, details in connection with plans for the repaving of Wells avenue and Lisbon street. It is the unanimous opinion of solons, apparently, that the financial affairs of the transaction should be mapped out definitely and completely, before the end of the year, which it was pointed out, is 29 days away.

Under suspended rules, a resolution authorizing and directing the proper city officials to issue a certificate of indebtedness amounting to $13,325, in anticipation of collection of taxes due the city, to the People's National bank, was passed on third reading.

The monthly report of Mayor James S. Barnes showed collections amounting to $1,276.90 for the month of November.

An open hole in a sewer at the intersection of Commerce street and Aten avenue, was reported to council by William Nicholson. Mayor Barnes immediately notified service department workers and a warning lamp was hung up. Repairs will be made today.

Kansas Highways

Kansas, determined to have a fine, complete system of highways throughout the state, has developed a plan that should be of interest in every state and county in the country. It is the joint product of county commissioners and chambers of commerce, and is complete except for the necessary legislation, which is expected this winter.

There is to be a state system of primary roads aggregating 7,000 miles—a huge undertaking for one state. The distribution is interesting. Every county will be entitled to roads equal in distance to the mileage across the county from north to south and from east to west, and will be assured paved roads connecting its county seat with neighboring county seats. There will be 40 per cent of available funds spread equally among the 105 counties, thus taking care of large counties with small populations as a matter of general public policy. The remaining 60 per cent of funds will be distributed among the counties on the basis of their assessed valuation. That will do justice to the wealthy and populous communities.

The money is to come from a gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, along with 75 per cent of the automobile fees and a special tax on commercial vehicles. The only road assessments on adjoining property will be 2 per cent for hard surfacing. The state road fund provided, and also the plans for road-building, will be in charge of the commissioners of the various counties, subject to the approval and supervision of the state highway commission.

Here are boldness and novelty in tackling what is probably the leading public problem in the United States today—the problem directly interesting and affecting the most people.

Bands Across the Sea

A jazz band in Philadelphia, broadcast the other night by the pioneer American radio station, was heard clearly in England. There has been still greater success with concerts broadcast in Europe. British, French and German stations have been heard, during the tests of the past week, far more clearly than ever before. Reception of foreign programs seems almost to have been the regular thing in the eastern states, among amateurs having good sets. There were numerous reports of successful reception all the way across the continent. Listeners on the Pacific coast were able to pick up London and Paris distinctly.

Thus trans-atlantic broadcasting becomes a reality. Great progress has been made in the past year. Still more progress may be expected in the coming year, with increasing power of transmitting stations and perfection of receiving instruments. If the Marconi system of directional wireless is applied to radiotelephony, so that programs may be "pointed" in any given direction, the development will be hastened.

All this bodes well not only because it adds to the interest of life and broadens human horizons, but because it promotes human fellowship regardless of racial and geographical lines. One nation cannot entertain another, and be entertained in turn, without a melting away of suspicion, distrust and hatred. Whatever the faults of radio, there is no hate in it.

The Bird Monument

Perhaps the finest bird bath in America is one that is being erected in Piney Branch Valley near Washington, D. C. It is designed by a distinguished French architect and built of French stone. It will bear this inscription:

"To the Birds of Piney Branch; from Their Friends, Elis and Jules Jusserand."

It is left as a memorial by the French ambassador, friend of several presidents, respected and beloved by America, as he ends his long period of diplomatic service at Washington and returns home.

Many a bird will cock a knowing eye at that inscription and scrutinize the classic lines of the fountain as he takes his daily splash. May the beneficiaries feel duly grateful! The memorial is typical of the man. And somehow it goes home to the hearts of Americans more surely than any ordinary, conventional memorial could have done.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

WHAT KIND OF BLINDERS DO YOU WEAR?

The horse wears blinders and the horse is the stupidest animal, more stupid even than the pig, according to a great French animal trainer.

The horse must wear blinders in order that he MAY NOT SEE THINGS AROUND HIM. His business is to GO ahead in a straight line, until a tug at his mouth changes the direction. Therefore, we fix him up so that he can only SEE in a straight line.

Sitting behind the horse you behold beauty or things of interest on all sides. Over there the calf kicks up its heels and bucks its mother; yonder a great tree rises toward the clouds, and farther still the steam cars remind you that you can go to town if you will.

But the horse must not, and does not, see these things. He has to be grateful for even a small piece of paper to shy at. The big things, the exciting things, that would make him run away and get his name in the papers are shut out from him.

No wonder he is the stupidest animal.

MEN LIKE MANY HORSES

But blinders made of leather, with monogram neatly engraved, are not THE ONLY blinders.

There are as many kinds of blinders in the mental world as there are different kinds of men.

And in one way the horse is ahead of us. He has blinders FORCED upon him. He always resists mildly when the bridle is pushed over his ears.

We human beings make our own blinders, fit them to our eyes, and either glory in them or ignore the fact that they are there.

It is a fact that each one of us carries around in his mentality some set of prejudices, preconceived opinions that act as blinders to the intellect and effectively shut out the truth.

These blind-prejudices are of all kinds.

Many of us are born with them.

The man born rich, or made rich, often thinks the poorer man is necessarily evil and inferior. He has mental blinders that should be at work keeping some donkey in the narrow path.

The poor man often wears a permanent delusion which tells him that all rich men are bad and aching for his heart's blood. That set of blinders makes it impossible for him to reason sensibly or to work intelligently at the improvement of his class.

Poor women—let us always speak kindly of them—walk around in their millions with blinders labeled "conventional." They would as willingly get out of life as get out of style. They look straight ahead at the hat of the woman in front of them, and that hat they will have, though the heavens fall or the husband fall. And as in clothes, so in other things, women stock to conventionality, and will not even look at truth if it wears an unfamiliar face. That is partly due to woman's distrust of what is new, while caring for her children. The mother among animals or humans is intensely suspicious of the unknown. But that excuse, while sound, would carry us out of the line of argument.

GET RID OF THEM—ADVICE

Women should try to think for themselves. As that great man, Buckle said, compressing volumes of advice into few words, "Women should learn to be ashamed of ignorance."

If women could get their blinders off and be so thoroughly ashamed of ignorance as they are of last year's hat, or of a sleeve with the idiotic ornament in the wrong place, the world would jump miles ahead. That's all about women; no man has the heart to scold them.

NOT EASY TO FOLLOW

Young men of today are the champion wearers and manufacturers of mental blinders, warranted to make breadth of view impossible.

They start out with the idea that THEY personally are pretty nearly "all right." They want the world to recognize their value and do the right thing by them—but they are not willing to wait long. When a young reporter has been beaten on the news for awhile, at a salary of thirty dollars per week and wants forty, just remind him that he is paid more than the engineer of the Empire State express, and ask him if he is a better man. He'll show you such a pair of mental blinders as would fill the heart of a white Spanish mule palfrey with bitter jealousy.

And tell the editorial writer that he says the same thing over and over, writing very commonplace stuff at that. You'll see visualized on the instant such a pair of self-sufficient blinders as would explain even HIS lack of growth.

Young men suffer from self-satisfaction most deplorably, partly because old age, with us, pays too much attention to youth; partly because we wear the old men out and make youth conceited by premature success.

The young man who will tear off his blinders, look around at others and at himself, even if it does hurt his vanity, will grow in speed and strength, and very likely discover a short cut across lots—once the blinders are gone.

Millions of us have blinders fitted to us by unfortunate conditions of birth. IGNORANCE is of all things the heaviest handicap. Many suffer with it through no fault of their own. Our public schools, for example, will tear off the blinders from the future generations more and more as men learn the art of inculcating REAL knowledge and of teaching men to USE what they know.

Knowledge is the great enemy of blindness, both partial and absolute.

Knowledge fights against superstition, its worst enemy, and wins every battle. Knowledge combats petty meanness, planting love of truth and justice in the poor soil where only love of money grew before.

Knowledge in time will free all of us from the blinders that we wear—producing a human race as fair ahead of us as we are ahead of the horse.

But as that good day will not come in OUR lives, let us attend each to his individual set of blinders NOW.

Each of us does wear a set. The problem is to IDENTIFY them and tear them off.

Get your friends to help you. A good friend can tell you what is the matter with you in a minute. He may not seem such a good friend after telling. But if you are sensible YOU will be a better man.

DINNER STORIES

The criminal trial was just about to commence and the jury had assembled in the box and were about to be sworn in by the clerk of the court. All went along like a house on fire until No. 10 was arrived at.

He was a meek, little man with a bald head and wearing strong spectacles—the sort of man one might call hen-pecked.

"You are a property holder?" asked the clerk.

"Yes, sir," replied jurymen No. 10.

"Married or single?"

"Married, sir," answered the little man. "And have been for five years."

"Have you formed or expressed any opinion?"

"Not for five years, sir."

"I hope, dear, that Marjorie enjoyed her visit," said a mother to her small daughter who had just bidding adieu to a little friend.

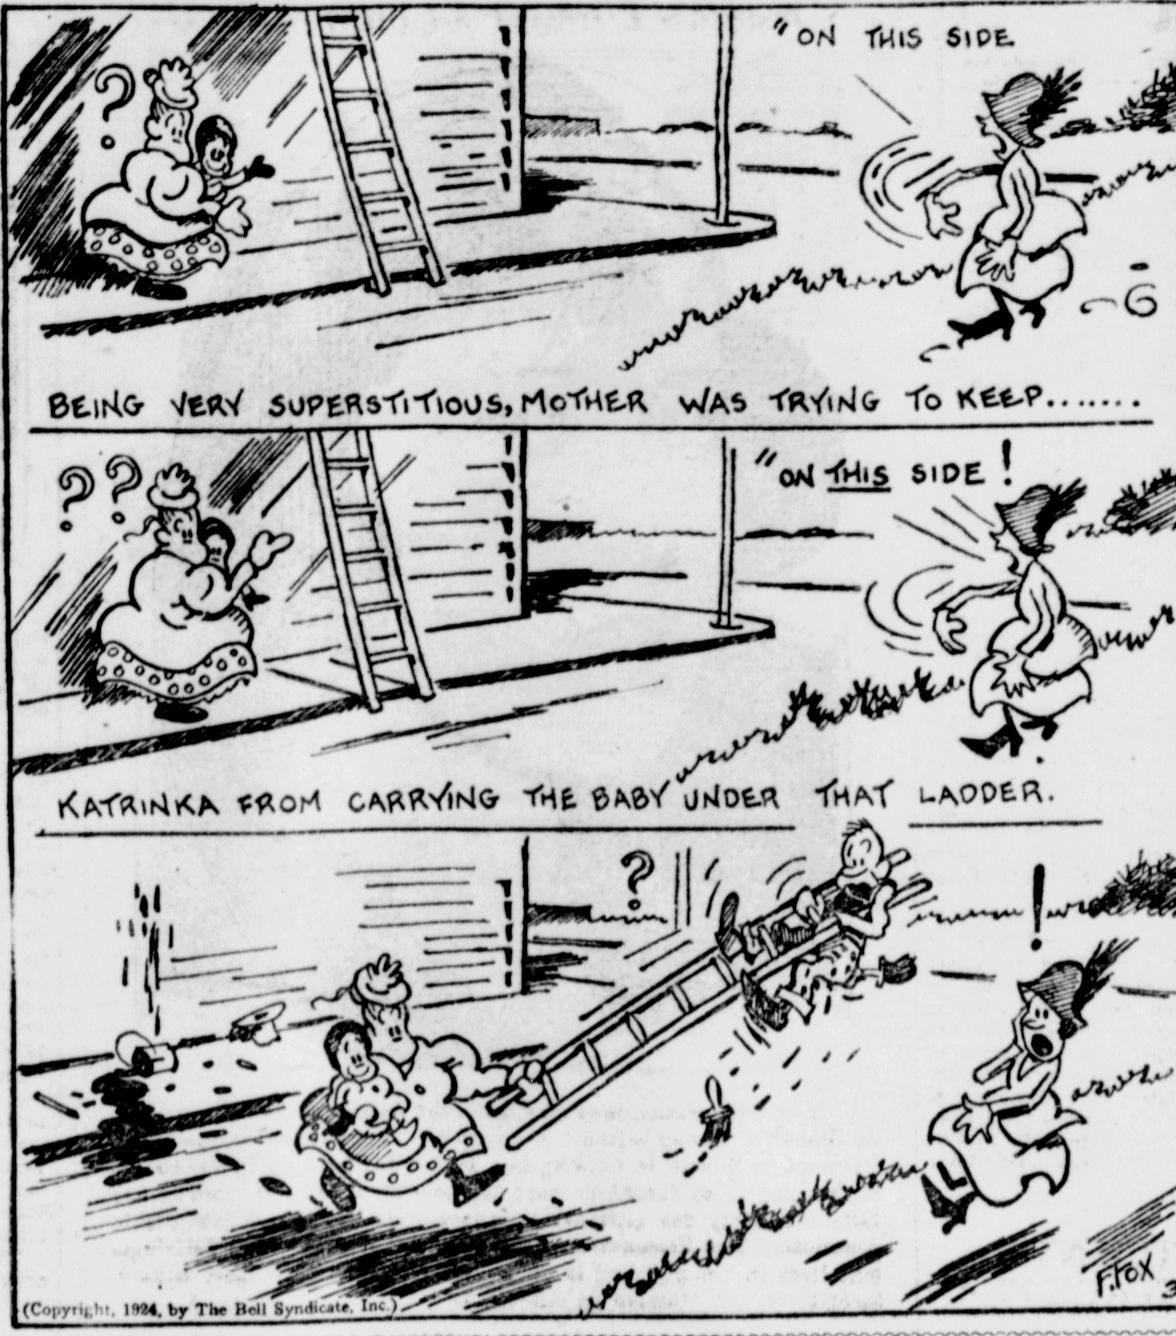

"Yes, mamma, I think she did," replied the child.

"I called her 'my dear' several times in that dressy tone you use when you have company."

The Powerful Katrinka Didn't Quite Understand—By Fontaine Fox

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Golf is de trop in southern California.

Here where the ancient Scots' game is played every day in the year an older sport is fast supplanting it among the social-eat-and-rich.

Polo is California's latest craze.

Since the Prince of Wales came to America and Pasadena's Midweek polo team won the national senior and junior championships the game of horses and all has plunged forward.

Polo ponies are already bringing fancy prices in southern California, and professional instructors in the game are crying their wares.

California's polo season gets under way the first of the year and will be climaxmed by the Pacific coast polo championships at Del Monte March 21 to April 15.

Featuring the coast title games this season will be the appearance of an Hawaiian team. The Hawaiians' ponies, as fine a string as ever seen in this country, have already arrived in California and are being groomed for contests.

Captain C. W. White, a prominent candidate for the All-army United States team scheduled to play the All-British army four in England next May, will probably lead the Hawaii team. White is rated at three goals, while other members of the team will likely be Lieutenant J. Sharp, rated two goals, and Major Carlos Brewer and Captain John Swing, rated three goals.

Among the leading civilian players who will be at Del Monte next spring will be members of the Del Monte four. They are Edward Baldwin, Herr Hunt, William Crocker and Francis Brown, the international golf known golf star.

Midweek club is the most exclusive club in southern California, and since its successful entry into polo other clubs are losing no time in following. Building of polo fields is already started at many golf and country clubs in Los Angeles and environs.

Romance knows no age. About 1860 Albert E. Magoffin left a sweetheart behind him smiling in the lilac-shaded yard in a small Ohio town when he marched away to war with the Eighty-ninth volunteers.

Sergeant Major Magoffin came back from the civil strife with a leg gone, and when he got home he found it was also missing a sweetheart.

He found his old friend the other day when he came to Los Angeles. She was at the station to meet him and hurried to the marriage license bureau, where he gave his age as 79, and his bride, Mrs. Lizzie P. Lewis, as 71.

In the long interval between the opening of the Civil War and the present time both Magoffin and Mrs. Lewis had been married and had lost their spouses by death. Mrs. Lewis had been living in Colorado Springs, and she and Magoffin learned of each other's whereabouts and renewed their friendship by correspondence.

Mrs. Lewis then came on from Colorado, and was met here by the soldier hero of her childhood days.

When Mary V. Keele tried to induce her husband, John D. Keele, a shoemaker, to take a bath he glibly informed her he only bathed in the summer time, according to the wife's suit for divorce on file here. Mrs. Keele stated in her complaint she had lived with Keele through two winters, but she could stand "such a life no longer."

THE BATTLE AGAINST PLAGUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—That most peculiar of all means of communication—the "wireless" by which scandal, innuendo and sensational stories are spread overnight throughout a community or throughout the country—is strikingly in evidence in the amazingly exaggerated reports of the pneumonic plague situation in Los Angeles. There has been little in the newspaper dispatches to inspire this sort of thing, but the reports have persisted, growing like the proverbial snowball.

The result has been a deluge of requests at the bureau of the United States public health service for information in regard to the plague in general and as to whether it is now a menace to the public. This, in turn, has led to the preparation under the direction of the surgeon general of a bulletin on the subject for dissemination through the press and through radio broadcasting stations.

Plague, it is explained, is primarily a disease of rats and certain other rodent animals, such as the ground squirrel in the United States, and the marmot, a burrowing rodent of Russia and China. It occurs in human beings in three forms, first, the bubonic, which is the most common form so far in recent times; second, the septicaemic, which usually occurs side by side with the bubonic type, and third, the pneumonic, the most fatal of all types, and the one type which spreads rapidly from one person to another, particularly among persons who are poorly fed, poorly housed and huddled together in overcrowded, insanitary places of abode.

In Los Angeles there has been no quarantining of the areas in which cases of the plague have developed, and while there has been a number of deaths the situation is said to be far from alarming. Plague is either epidemic, appearing locally, or pandemic, which means spread all over the world. The present pandemic, the health service says, began in China in 189

It is the joint product of county commissioners and chambers of commerce, and is complete except for the necessary legislation, which is expected this winter.

There is to be a state system of primary roads aggregating 7,000 miles—a huge undertaking for one state. The distribution is interesting. Every county will be entitled to roads equal in distance to the mileage across the county from north to south and from east to west, and will be assured paved roads connecting its county seat with neighboring county seats. There will be 40 per cent of available funds spread equally among the 105 counties, thus taking care of large counties with small populations as a matter of general public policy. The remaining 60 per cent of funds will be distributed among the counties on the basis of their assessed valuation. That will do justice to the wealthy and populous communities.

The money is to come from a gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, along with 75 per cent of the automobile fees and a special tax on commercial vehicles. The only road assessments on adjoining property will be 2 per cent for hard surfacing. The state road fund provided, and also the plans for road-building, will be in charge of the commissioners of the various counties, subject to the approval and supervision of the state highway commission.

Here are boldness and novelty in tackling what is probably the leading public problem in the United States today—the problem directly interesting and affecting the most people.

Bands Across the Sea

A jazz band in Philadelphia, broadcast the other night by the pioneer American radio station, was heard clearly in England. There has been still greater success with concerts broadcast in Europe. British, French and German stations have been heard, during the tests of the past week, far more clearly than ever before. Reception of foreign programs seems almost to have been the regular thing in the eastern states, among amateurs having good sets. There were numerous reports of successful reception all the way across the continent. Listeners on the Pacific coast were able to pick up London and Paris distinctly.

Thus trans-atlantic broadcasting becomes a reality. Great progress has been made in the past year. Still more progress may be expected in the coming year, with increasing power of transmitting stations and perfection of receiving instruments. If the Marconi system of directional wireless is applied to radiotelephony, so that programs may be "pointed" in any given direction, the development will be hastened.

All this bodes well not only because it adds to the interest of life and broadens human horizons, but because it promotes human fellowship regardless of racial and geographical lines. One nation cannot entertain another, and be entertained in turn, without a melting away of suspicion, distrust and hatred. Whatever the faults of radio, there is no hate in it.

The Bird Monument

Perhaps the finest bird bath in America is one that is being erected in Piney Branch Valley near Washington, D. C. It is designed by a distinguished French architect and built of French stone. It will bear this inscription:

"To the Birds of Piney Branch; from Their Friends, Elis and Jules Jusserand."

It is left as a memorial by the French ambassador, friend of several presidents, respected and beloved by America, as he ends his long period of diplomatic service at Washington and returns home.

Many a bird will cock a knowing eye at that inscription and scrutinize the classic lines of the fountain as he takes his daily splash. May the beneficiaries feel duly grateful! The memorial is typical of the man. And somehow it goes home to the hearts of Americans more surely than any ordinary, conventional memorial could have done.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.

WHAT KIND OF BLINDERS DO YOU WEAR?

The horse wears blinders and the horse is the stupidest animal, more stupid even than the pig, according to a great French animal trainer.

The horse must wear blinders in order that he

MAY NOT SEE THINGS AROUND HIM. His business is to GO ahead in a straight line, until a tug at his mouth changes the direction. Therefore, we fix him up so that he can only SEE in a straight line.

Sitting behind the horse you behold beauty or things of interest on all sides. Over there the calf kicks up its heels and bucks its mother; yonder a great tree rises toward the clouds, and farther still the steam cars remind you that you can go to town if you will.

But the horse must not, and does not, see these things. He has to be grateful for even a small piece of paper to shay at. The big things, the exciting things, that would make him run away and get his name in the papers are shut out from him. No wonder he is the stupidest animal.

MEN LIKE MANY HORSES

But blinders made of leather, with monogram neatly engraved, are not THE ONLY blinders.

There are as many kind of blinders in the mental world as there are different kinds of men.

And in one way the horse is ahead of us. He has blinders FORCED upon him. He always resists mildly when the bridle is pushed over his ears.

We human beings make our own blinders, fit them to our eyes, and either glory in them or ignore the fact that they are there.

It is a fact that each one of us carries around in his mentality some set of prejudices, preconceived opinions that act as blinders to the intellect and effectively shut out the truth.

These blinder-prejudices are of all kinds.

Many of us are born with them.

The man born rich, or made rich, often thinks the poorer man is necessarily evil and inferior. He has mental blinders that should be at work keeping some donkey in the narrow path.

The poor man often wears a permanent delusion which tells him that all rich men are bad and aching for his heart's blood. That set of blinders makes it impossible for him to reason sensibly or to work intelligently at the improvement of his class.

Poor women—let us always speak kindly of them—walk around in their millions with blinders labeled "conventional." They would as willingly get out of life as get out of style. They look straight ahead at the hat of the woman in front of them, and that hat they will have, though the heavens fall or the husband fall. And as in clothes, so in other things, women stick to conventionality, and will not even look at truth if it wears an unfamiliar face. (That is partly due to woman's distrust of what is new, while caring for her children. The mother among animals or humans is intensely suspicious of the unknown. But that excuse, while sound, would carry us out of the line of argument).

GET RID OF THEM—ADVICE

Women should try to think for themselves. As that great man, Buckle said, compressing volumes of advice into few words, "Women should learn to be ashamed of ignorance."

If women could get their blinders off and be so thoroughly ashamed of ignorance as they are of last year's hat, or of a sleeve with the idiotic ornament in the wrong place, the world would jump miles ahead. That's all about women; no man has the heart to scold them.

NOT EASY TO FOLLOW

Young men of today are the champion wearers and manufacturers of mental blinders, warranted to make breadth of view impossible.

They start out with the idea that THEY personally are pretty nearly "all right." They want the world to recognize their value and do the right thing by them—but they are not willing to wait long. When a young reporter has been beaten on the news for awhile, at a salary of thirty dollars per week and wants forty, just remind him that he is paid more than the engineer of the Empire State express, and ask him if he is a better man. He'll show you such a pair of mental blinders as would fill the heart of a white Spanish mule palfrey with bitter jealousy.

And tell the editorial writer that he says the same thing over and over, writing very commonplace stuff at that. You'll see visualized on the instant such a pair of self-sufficient blinders as would explain even HIS lack of growth.

Young men suffer from self-satisfaction most deplorably, partly because old age, with us, pays too much attention to youth; partly because we wear the old men out and make youth concealed by premature success.

The young man who will tear off his blinders, look around at others and at himself, even if it does hurt his vanity, will grow in speed and strength and very likely discover a short cut across lots—once the blinders are gone.

Millions of us have blinders fitted to us by unfortunate conditions of birth. IGNORANCE is of all things the heaviest handicap. Many suffer with it through no fault of their own. Our public schools, happily, will tear off the blinders from the future generations more and more as men learn the art of inculcating REAL knowledge and of teaching men to USE what they know.

Knowledge is the great enemy of blindness, both partial and absolute.

Knowledge fights against superstition, its worst enemy, and wins every battle. Knowledge combats petty meanness, planting love of truth and justice in the poor soil where only love of money grew before.

Knowledge in time will free all of us from the blinders that we wear—producing a human race as fair ahead of us as we are ahead of the horse.

But as that good day will not come in OUR lives, let us attend each to his individual set of blinders NOW.

Each of us does wear a set. The problem is to IDENTIFY them and tear them off.

Get your friends to help you. A good friend can tell you what is the matter with you in a minute. He may not seem such a good friend after telling. But if you are sensible YOU will be a better man.

DINNER STORIES

The criminal trial was just about to commence and the jury had assembled in the box and were about to be sworn in by the clerk of the court. All went along like a house on fire until No. 10 was arrived at. He was a week, little man with a bald head and wearing strong spectacles—the sort of man one might call hen-pecked.

"You are a property holder?" asked the clerk.

"Yes, sir," replied jurymen No. 10.

"Married or single?"

"Married, sir," answered the little man. "And have been for five years."

"Have you formed or expressed any opinion?"

"Not for five years, sir."

"I hope, dear, that Marjorie enjoyed her visit," said a mother to her small daughter who had just bidding adieu to a little friend.

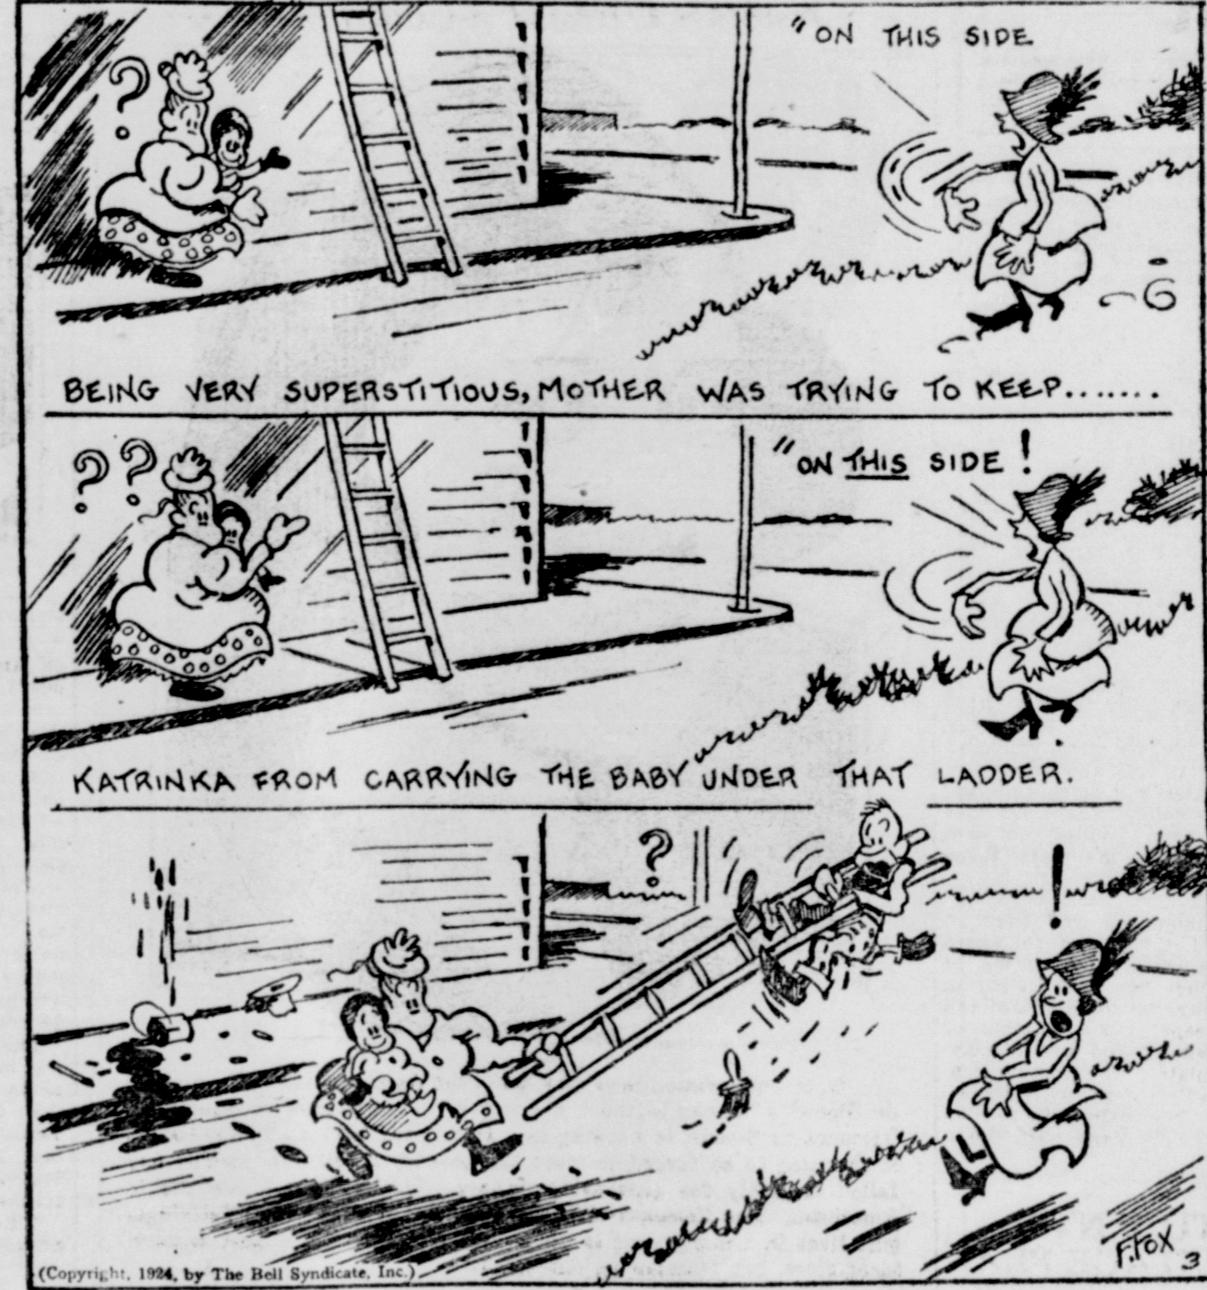

"Yes, mamma, I think she did," replied the child.

"I called her 'my dear' several times in that dressy tone you use when you have company."

More fox-hunting in America this fall; and everyone but the hunters wonders what it's all about.

The Powerful Katrinka Didn't Quite Understand— By Fontaine Fox

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Golf is de trop in southern California.

Here where the ancient Scots' game is played every day in the year an older sport is fast superseding it among the social-elect and rich.

Polo is California's latest craze.

Since the Prince of Wales came to America and Pasadena's Midwick polo team won the national senior and junior championships the game of horses and all has plunged forward.

Polo ponies are already bringing fancy prices in southern California, and professional instructors in the game are crying their wares.

California's polo season gets under way the first of the year and will be climaxmed by the Pacific coast polo championships at Del Monte March 21 to April 15.

Featuring the coast title games this season will be the appearance of an Hawaiian team. The Hawaiians' ponies, as fine a string as ever seen in this country, have already arrived in California and are being groomed for contests.

Captain C. W. White, a prominent candidate for the All-American United States team scheduled to play the All-British army four in England next May, will probably lead the Hawaii team. White is rated at three goals, while other members of the team will likely be Lieutenant J. Sharp, rated two goals, and Major Carlos Brewer and Captain John Swing, rated three goals.

Among the leading civilian players who will be at Del Monte next spring will be members of the Del Monte four. They are Edward Baldwin, Herr Hunt, William Crocker and Francis Brown, the internationally known golf star.

Midwick club is the most exclusive club in southern California, and since its successful entry into polo other clubs are losing no time in following. Building of polo fields is already started at many golf and country clubs in Los Angeles and environs.

Romance knows no age.

About 1860 Albert E. Magoffin left a sweetheart behind him, smiling in the lilac-shaded yard in a small Ohio town when he marched away to war with the Eighty-ninth volunteers.

Sergeant Major Magoffin came back from the civil strife with a leg gone, and when he got home found he was also missing a sweetheart.

He found his old friend the other day when he came to Los Angeles. She was at the station to meet him and hurried to the marriage license bureau, where he gave his age as 79, and his bride, Mrs. Lizzie P. Lewis, as 71.

In the long interval between the opening of the Civil war and the present time both Magoffin and Mrs. Lewis had been married and had lost their spouses by death. Mrs. Lewis had been living in Colorado Springs, and she and Magoffin learned of each other's whereabouts and renewed their friendship by correspondence.

Mrs. Lewis then came on from Colorado and was met here by the soldier hero of her childhood days.

When Mary V. Keele tried to induce her husband, John D. Keele, a shoemaker, to take a bath he glibly informed her he only bathed in the summer time, according to the wife's suit for divorce on file here. Mrs. Keele stated in her complaint she had lived with Keele through two winters, but she could stand "such a life no longer."

THE BATTLE AGAINST PLAGUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—That most peculiar of all means of communication—the "wireless" by which scandal, innuendo and sensational stories are spread overnight throughout a community or throughout the country—is strikingly in evidence in the amazingly exaggerated reports of the pneumonic plague situation in Los Angeles. There has been little in the newspaper dispatches to inspire this sort of thing, but the reports have persisted, growing like the proverbial snowball.

The result has been a deluge of requests at the bureaus of the United States public health service for information in regard to the plague in general and as to whether it is now a menace to the public. This, in turn, has led to the preparation under the direction of the surgeon general of a bulletin on the subject for dissemination through the press and through radio broadcasting stations.

Plague, it is explained, is primarily a disease of rats and certain other rodent animals, such as the ground squirrel in the United States, and the marmot, a burrowing rodent of Russia and China. It occurs in human beings in three forms, first, the bubonic, which is the most common form so far in recent times; second, the septicaemic, which usually occurs side by side with the bubonic type, and, third, the pneumonic, the most fatal of all types, and the one type which spreads rapidly from one person to another, particularly among persons who are poorly fed, poorly housed and huddled together in overcrowded, insanitary places of abode.

In Los Angeles there has been no quarantining of the areas in which cases of the plague have developed, and while there has been a number of deaths the situation is said to be far from alarming. Plague is either epidemic, appearing locally, pandemic, which means spread all over the world. The present pandemic, the health service says, began in China in 1894. In 1896, India, Japan, Asia, Turkey and European Russia were infected. In 1898, the disease spread to Madagascar and Mauritius, and in 1899 it appeared in Arabia, Persian, the Straits Settlements, Austria, Portugal, British South Africa, Egypt, the French Ivory coast and Portuguese

LICENSE TAGS IN BIG DEMAND

State License Bureau is swamped; warning note sounded.

Applications for 1925 motor car licenses, which are being received at the rate of between 10,000 and 12,000 daily, are virtually swamping the state road commissioners' automobile license bureau at Charleston, it was announced by B. S. Ray, official in charge, who added that present indications pointed to an issuance of 200,000 licenses for 1925, as compared with 165,000 issued in 1924.

The license bureau has a supply of tags on hand ample to take care of all 50 for 25 cents.

Mr. Ray said, and although everything has been in readiness for several weeks, not until this week has any appreciable amount of applications been received and up until Saturday night only a scant 3,000 had been received.

The task now confronting officials, Mr. Ray said, is issuing some 175,000 or more licenses in less than 26 workingdays.

All cars must be equipped with 1925 tags if they are to be used on or after January 1, 1925. Mr. Ray declared, adding that "no period of grace will be allowed this year." So tremendous is the task of issuing the plates, Mr. Ray explained, that already orders have gone forth for the plates to be issued in 1925. Based on the estimates of the last two years the orders have been placed as follows:

200,000 passenger cars for private use; 30,000 trucks; 400 trailers; 2,500 motorcycles; 500 tractors; 200 motorcycle dealers; 10,000 auto dealers; 7,500 commercial cars and buses.

The 1925 plates will be in gold and blue, the state colors. Those for 1926 have not yet been decided, but will be selected within the next three weeks, Mr. Ray said.

State Roads Commissioner C. E. Hiner warns motorists who have already received their tags to guard against premature use. Attention of the commissioner has been called in the last few days to violations of the law in this respect by a number of automobile owners who are displaying the 1925 plates. The commissioners said he wants the public to understand that the law expressly forbids the use of the new tags until January 1.

HIGH STUDENTS TO STAGE PLAY

Members of the senior class of the Chester high school are rehearsing the comedy rural playlet, "Aaron Stick from Pumpkin Creek," which will be presented in the Chester theatre Friday evening. Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra.

The plot is said to be exceedingly funny and as the title implies based strictly on rural life. Large number of students are in the cast with the leading roles in capable hands.

It is expected that the production will be witnessed by a capacity audience.

American Viscountess May Be Made Woman Without a Country By U. S.TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"AMERICA'S MORAL INFLUENCE IN WORLD AFFAIRS IS TREMENDOUS," SAYS HERRICK.

"We little realize the tremendous strength of America's moral influence as a nation abroad and Europe's appreciation of our course of helpfulness and co-operation." So declared Myron T. Herrick, U. S. ambassador to France, in a recent address.

"Although we have been often misunderstood and frequently criticised by a multitude of nations," declared Mr. Herrick "yet I can say that now, particularly in view of our recent activities in assisting them in formulating an economic plan, they are as one trusting us and believing in our high purposes."

The nations co-operating under this plan for the economic stability of Europe, did not at first enter into it in an unanimous spirit; in fact, the agreement between them was reached with considerable opposition, and, finally, in a spirit of renunciation and sacrifice. The fact that the plan was worked out to mutual satisfaction, although undoubtedly many difficulties lie ahead, its adoption has given newborn hope to the establishment of mutual confidence and a better understanding between the European nations."

The ambassador said he believed it was due to America's being in the position as counsel and friend, rather than a party to "the local and continental entanglements of Europe," that it was possible for the United States to be helpful in the European after-war problem.

"The post-war conditions so affected normal conditions that it was seemingly impossible for the people individually and collectively to work out their own salvation," he said. "It was this condition that brought Europe to a deadlock. It was this deadlock that the Dawes plan broke. This country could not have effectively introduced its services upon Europe before and in advance of its invitation to do so. Party controversies are to be deplored in our foreign relations and I always endeavor to think and act for my country as a whole. In this way and on account of this fundamental, our government is able to make real advancement in our foreign affairs. So necessary to the peace of the world and the restoration of trade."

American Viscountess May Be Made Woman Without a Country By U. S.

U. S. immigration laws may make the American born Viscountess de Sibour a woman without a country. Her French husband, the Viscount de Sibour, is working in a New York banking house, but he is expected to be forced to leave the country shortly because he has failed to apply for citizenship papers. Under French law she is American. The Viscountess is the daughter of H. Gordon Selfridge, who lives in London, and is the owner of England's largest department store, but remains an American.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germs.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

TIME, LABOR AND EXPENSE LISTED TO SHOW "TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Twenty-piece Orchestra
Accompanies De Luxe
Photoplay Which Comes to Ceramic on
Dec. 11 for Three-day
Stay.

month of careful rehearsals and tryouts. Many thousands of dollars are expended weekly by each organization in taking along such an expensive personnel and equipment, but the object is achieved of giving a presentation equal in every respect to those of long runs in New York, London, Chicago and Los Angeles.
Seat sale opens Tuesday, Dec. 9. Mail orders now with remittance.

Few persons probably realize the amount of time, labor and expense involved in the de luxe presentation of a great picture in legitimate theatres, so here is a list of "The Ten Commandments," requirements and personnel for its engagement at the Ceramic theatre three days, commencing Thursday, Dec. 11:

Musical conductor and orchestra of 20.

Managerial staff, with two advance agents.

Twin Simplex machines and fire proof booth.

A sixty-foot baggage car of effects.

Complete traveling theatrical crew.

Two projectionists.

Shadow box masking entire stage.

Two giant electric arcs and "high intensity" lamp houses.

Giant silver screen.

Two prints of "The Ten Commandments," so that no accident can stop the show.

The manager always buys 25 railway tickets from point to point. On night jumps, an entire Pullman sleeper is used. Each musician has his lower berth, is made as comfortable as on tour with Metropolitan opera or Boston Symphony. The managers, agents, operators and crew are skilled showmen, veterans of movie presentation in the Erlanger and Shubert chains of theatres. One of them ran "The Covered Wagon" at the White House for President Harding, and others have taken "The Ten Commandments" abroad.

The musical conductor was personally trained by Dr. Hugo Risenfeld (the composer of the score) at the New York George M. Cohan theatre.

Most of the players have enjoyed

Metropolitan or Symphony experience. Before the regular tour be-

"KIKI" PROVES BELASCO HIT

Dramatic Success Comes to Ceramic Next Tuesday.

Owing to the enthusiasm with which the performances of "Kiki" have already been received in New York where it ran for more than 600 nights at the Belasco theatre much is expected of the engagement in this city at the Ceramic theatre Tuesday, Dec. 9. The biggest name in the theatre in America is David Belasco, and "Kiki" has proven to be one of the greatest successes of the many he has given to the American stage.

"Kiki," the bizarre and impish wife of the Parisian boulevards, invades a manager's office after

"Carmen"-like hatpin affray with another girl.

Her "cuteness" whets his interest after he has quarreled with his leading lady and former wife, and he takes her home to his apartment. Once there she keeps things in a hub-bub until, at the final curtain, or thereabouts, she confides that she is the last thing in the world anybody would expect, "a good girl," and he sends her tenderly away to bed.

To describe her struttin gs in garish gowns, her unceremonious near-dressing, her threatened stabbing of the former wife, her catlike leaps to tables and armchairs, and her scuff-les on the floor with servants, would be impossible. For a long time in the last act, Kiki stimulates a cataleptic fit, maintaining perfect rigidity while she is tossed around, stood on her toes, and tilted against chairs, with skill that any athlete or acrobat might envy, and without finding pajamas at all embarrassing.

Miss Marguerite Risser who plays "Kiki" visualizes the proving. She visualizes it in pajamas and other degrees of undress. She visualizes it by an endless succession of rough and tumble antics. She makes it audible in some of the most pungent words that could be placed on the lips of a little street rat—behind the footlights. And in doing so she expends enough energy to light an entire city, if it could be transformed into electrical current.

A distinguished company has been assembled to present the play, here embracing as it does such popular favorites as Marguerite Risser, Florence Rommette Smith, Lorle Palmer, Alfred Eason, Edward Wade, Max Von Mittel, Eugene Shakespeare, Charles H. Morrell, Frank McClure and others.—Adv.

LIMA, O.—More than 50,000 letters are handled daily by Lima post-office employees, according to the announcement of George Winemiller, superintendent of mails. With the advent of the Christmas season, Supt. Winemiller said, he expected the number of letters and packages sent through the local postoffice will be more than doubled.

THE map tells the story. You can make the Gulf Coast trip first, continuing from Florida on the L. & N. main line to Florida, and returning North on any of the L. & N.'s perfectly equipped all-steel through trains: The Southland, The Dixie Flyer, The Dixie Limited. Or you can visit Florida first and return via Pensacola and Flomaton, from the latter the short side trip is made to the other Gulf Coast points. The principal ones are shown on the map.

Diverse Routes to FLORIDA and Gulf Coast Region

The Diverse Route plan of the L. & N. for visiting Florida, including the Gulf Coast from Mobile to New Orleans on the same trip, at slight additional cost, or including Pensacola at no extra cost, will be a feature of Southern travel this year.

The Gulf Coast offers so varied a list of attractions—equable climate, old-world atmosphere, modern hotels, beautiful scenery, all sports, truly hospitable people, cooking that is an epicurean delight;—that the list of visitors grows every season. And of course, there's New Orleans!

Visit the Gulf Coast this year. The diverse route plan makes it easy and very inexpensive. Let the undersigned give you full information and arrange your itinerary. Ask or write for descriptive literature.

TIME, LABOR AND EXPENSE LISTED TO SHOW "TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Twenty-piece Orchestra Accompanies De Luxe Photoplay Which Comes to Ceramic on Dec. 11 for Three-day Stay.

Few persons probably realize the amount of time, labor and expense involved in the de luxe presentation of a great picture in legitimate theatres, so here is a list of "The Ten Commandments," requirements and personnel for its engagement at the Ceramic theatre three days, commencing Thursday, Dec. 11:

Musical conductor and orchestra of 20.

Managerial staff, with two advance agents.

Twin Simplex machines and fire proof booth.

A sixty-foot baggage car of effects.

Complete traveling theatrical crew.

Two projectionists.

Shadow box masking entire stage.

Two giant electric arcs and "high intensity" lamp houses.

Giant silver screen.

Two prints of "The Ten Commandments," so that no accident can stop the show.

The manager always buys 25 railway tickets from point to point. On night trips, an entire Pullman sleeper is used.

Each musician has his lower berth, is made as comfortable as on tour with Metropolitan opera or Boston Symphony. The managers, agents, operators and crew are skilled showmen, veterans of movie presentation in the Erlanger and Shubert chains of theatres.

One of them ran "The Covered Wagon" at the White House for President Harding, and others have taken "The Ten Commmandments" abroad.

The musical conductor was personally trained by Dr. Hugo Risenfeld (the composer of the score) at the New York George M. Cohan theatre. Most of the players have enjoyed Metropolitan or Symphony experience. Before the regular tour begins, there is for each company a month of careful rehearsals and try-outs. Many thousands of dollars are expended weekly by each organization in taking along such an expensive personnel and equipment, but the object is achieved of giving a presentation equal in every respect to those of long runs in New York, London, Chicago and Los Angeles.

Seat sale opens Tuesday, Dec. 9.

Mail orders now with remittance.

MENTAL CASES SHOW INCREASE

Average of 75 Persons Taken to Institutions in Four Years.

* On an average of 75 persons have been taken to state institutions annually during the last four years by Sheriff Gomer Lewis to be treated for mental ailments, according to testimony Mr. Lewis gave when called as a witness in the case of William A. Wolfe, who was tried before a jury in common pleas court Tuesday to determine whether or not Wolfe was sane or insane.

"I have taken about 300 people to state institutions who have been pronounced insane," Mr. Lewis testified.

This is at the rate of slightly over six persons per month per year.

These patients have first been adjudged insane, and have been given examinations either before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle in his court or the court has been compelled to go to the homes and conduct a lunacy inquiry, such subjects being unfit to be taken into court.

BOY CHARGED WITH STEALING MACHINE

Believing that the coupe he was driving was a stolen car, Marshal Roy L. Lewton, of Lisbon, Monday night, arrested Herman Curaton, and then learned that the car the accused had been driving about this part of the county for the last week was stolen in Canton.

The Canton police department were notified and the Lisbon officer was advised to hold Curaton, who is 17 years of age, until they could send for him.

COURT RULINGS HANDED DOWN

Number of Decisions Rendered in Common Pleas Court.

Although the action was entered September 15, 1922, the case of Frank H. Wack against Sophia Hilliard and others has been settled at the costs of the plaintiff. Soon after the action was entered judgment for $1,234.30 was rendered the plaintiff, and then later the judgment was vacated. The action continued until the present entry which closes the case.

In the case of J. R. Coll and others of East Palestine against T. O. Swanson, which was a petition in attachment filed Nov. 16, 1922, the action has been dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

Settlements at the costs of the plaintiff has also been recorded in the case of the Starr Piano Co., against George R. Kayle, the original petition being filed May 15, 1922.

Judgment by default has been rendered in the case of the Scott Lumber Co., against George M. Aten, and in favor of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co., of Wellsville, and for the costs of the defendant.

At the costs of the defendant, the case of W. F. Johnson and others against Mable Berwick Anderson has been dismissed by Judge James G. Moore. This was an appeal from a verdict of the Justice of the peace.

Leave has been granted the plaintiff to file an amended petition in the case of Ed. W. Hall against Thomas Cadwallader, of Salem, which is an action to recover $50,000 damages from the defendant, and which was filed following the arrest and acquisition of Hall for removing mortgaged property out of the county, and on an affidavit filed by the defendant in this action.

Leave has been granted George Wheeler of East Liverpool until Dec. 27 to file his answer to the case filed against him by A. F. Vonderker and Joseph Vogt to recover a claim placed at $457.80, said to be owing the plaintiff for the erection of a garage for the defendant.

Cross Petition Filed.

A cross petition and answer has been filed in the divorce case of John Salisbury against his wife Addie Salisbury. The petition was filed by Attorney S. W. Crawford of East Liverpool, and the commission has the lawful right to increase the valuations, if in the opinion of the board the valuations are too low.

COMMISSIONERS ORDER SURVEYS

The county commissioners have ordered the surveyor's office to proceed with surveys for the improvement of the Lisbon-Elkton road, and also for the East Palestine-Negley road from the foot of Crains' hill to the municipal limits of East Palestine.

A survey has been ordered for the road extending from North Georgetown to Valley, thence to Salem.

It is probable that the county will share with Salem in resurfacing of the Cox highway, west in Salem during the new year.

Case Settled.

The case of the Peninsular Trading Agency of New York against the McLean Tire & Rubber company of East Liverpool, which was to have been heard before Judge Carl H. Smith in No. 1 common pleas court Wednesday morning, was announced settled just before the opening of court. The jury was excused from duty until 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

MENTAL CASES SHOW INCREASE

Average of 75 Persons Taken to Institutions in Four Years.

On an average of 75 persons have been taken to state institutions annually during the last four years by Sheriff Gomer Lewis to be treated for mental ailments, according to testimony Mr. Lewis gave when called as a witness in the case of William A. Wolfe, who was tried before a jury in common pleas court Tuesday to determine whether or not Wolfe was sane or insane.

"I have taken about 300 people to state institutions who have been pronounced insane," Mr. Lewis testified.

This is at the rate of slightly over six persons per month per year.

These patients have first been adjudged insane, and have been given examinations either before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle in his court or the court has been compelled to go to the homes and conduct a lunacy inquest such subjects being unfit to be taken into court.

BOY CHARGED WITH STEALING MACHINE

Believing that the coupe he was driving was a stolen car, Marshal Roy L. Lewton, of Lisbon, Monday night, arrested Herman Curaton, and then learned that the car the accused had been driving about this part of the county for the last week was stolen in Canton.

The Canton police department were notified and the Lisbon officer was advised to hold Curaton, who is 17 years of age, until they could send for him.

The boy has been a ward of the juvenile court of this county for several years, and removed to Canton some months ago with his parents.

A charge was preferred against the boy in a justice of the peace court last week for default in a board bill of $50, but this complaint was withdrawn.

Action Filed.

Paul Jones and Raymond Jones, of 1030½ Yale avenue, Cleveland, have filed an action in common pleas court against K. L. Coburn, Ellsworth Kille, Jacob Culp, Charles V. Kille, C. E. and Rose Parshall, all of Salem. The action is one in equitable relief and concerns the sale of property located in Salem.

CasesAppealed.

After judgment had been rendered in the court of Justice of the Peace C. W. Powell, of East Liverpool, in favor of W. C. Whittington against Den McCoy for $20.50, claimed due for work and labor, McCoy has appealed to common pleas court. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney W. S. Foniks, while McCoy is represented by Attorney Frank E. Grossman.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to Benjamin Williams of Ellet of near Akron, a rubber worker, and Florence Murray, a widow of East Liverpool, whose maiden name was Florence Coleman.

COURT RULINGS HANDED DOWN

Number of Decisions Rendered in Common Pleas Court.

Although the action was entered September 15, 1922, the case of Frank H. Wack against Sophie Hilliard and others has been settled at the costs of the plaintiff. Soon after the action was entered judgment for $1,234.30 was rendered the plaintiff, and then later the judgment was vacated. The action continued until the present entry which closes the case.

In the case of J. R. Coll and others of East Palestine against T. O. Swanson, which was a petition in attachment filed Nov. 16, 1922, the action has been dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

Settlements at the costs of the plaintiff has also been recorded in the case of the Starr Piano Co., against George R. Kyle, the original petitioner.

Judgment by default has been rendered in the case of the Scott Lumber Co., against George M. Aten, and in favor of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co., of Wellsville, and for the costs of the defendant.

At the costs of the defendant, the case of W. F. Johnson and others against Mable Berwick Anderson has been dismissed by Judge James G. Moore. This was an appeal from a court of the Justice of the peace.

Leave has been granted the plaintiff to file an amended petition in the case of Ed. W. Hall against Thomas Cadwallader, of Salem, which is an action to recover $50,000 damages from the defendant, and which was filed following the arrest and acquittal of Hall for removing mortgaged property out of the county, and on an affidavit filed by the defendant in this action.

Leave has been granted George Wheeler of East Liverpool until Dec. 27 to file his answer to the case filed against him by A. F. Vonderer and Joseph Voigt to recover a claim placed at $457.80, said to be owing the plaintiffs for the erection of a garage and sons.

Mrs. Salsberry declares that her husband threatened her life Nov. 6 last and drove the defendant from her home.

Cross Petition Filed.

A cross petition and answer has been filed in the divorce case of John Salsberry against his wife Addie Salsberry. The petition was filed by Attorney S. W. Crawford of East Liverpool, and denies every allegation set forth in the petition of Salsberry.

Mrs. Salsberry declares that her husband threatened her life Nov. 6 last and drove the defendant from her home.

Case Settled.

The case of the Peninsular Trading Agency of New York against the McLean Tire & Rubber Company of East Liverpool, which was to have been heard before Judge Carl H. Smith in No. 1 common pleas court Wednesday morning, was announced settled just before the opening of court. The jury was excused from duty until 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END
A COLD OR CATARRH*How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffing, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

KIDNEYS MUST HAVE PLENTY OF WATER

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse;
again, there is difficulty in voiding
it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination.
While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.
By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

To-day's Cross Word Puzzle
A MYSTERIOUS MOSAIC—Twister No. 39.

TODAY'S arrangement is a bit more difficult than those you have been toying with the past few days. But the puzzle does not have any trick combinations in it that might misguide a word wrestler. You will come across, however, two or three words that are not used in everyday conversation.

See if you can take the mystery out of this mosaic.

Below you will find the definitions for the missing words, both horizontal and vertical.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

(Chapter Five, Continued.)

In their final arguments, the prosecution followed the same lines as in the first trial; the testimony of Jimmy Calhoun was their strong point; they argued lengthily on the subject, for, in the first trial, the two jurors who had held out for an acquittal could not be argued or persuaded out of their conviction that Jimmy Calhoun's memory had failed him. In his pleading, Dascome left all mention of this, the prosecution's strong point, until the very last. Then, with shoulders squared and his unwavering eyes on the jury, he brushed aside the arguments of the prosecution on this point with two sentences: "A boy can spend an hour hunting a bird's nest and forget that he did it. Many a man has been hanged because of the faulty memory of another."

Dascome's handling of his case was pronounced by his own profession as one of the cleverest bits of legal strategy they had ever known, and his pleading a masterpiece; women wept and men sighed and moved restlessly. His appeal was to the emotional, to that sympathy which human beings, if not too deeply prejudiced, never will withhold and never will withhold from even the blackest criminal, still less from a man deserving the benefit of the doubt and pleading his own cause. No one in that court room was allowed to forget that he had striven to vindicate his wife, the little girl injured and unconscious of her injury, "A flower broken while in bud and never reaching perfect bloom; a poor fevered brain, fit victim of the unscrupulous; a mystery to those who could not understand and in their ignorance blundered, but with pity always beneath their efforts to solve the mystery."

It was late afternoon when the jury retired, but that crowded and pampered room full of people waited breathlessly. It was said afterward that not a single person left the room during the time of waiting.

VI

The jury were absent from the court room for about twenty minutes; their verdict was, "Not guilty."

There followed then the shuffle and stir of a tensely rapt audience released; the reporters, on "extras" intent, had already reached the court room door. In the foreground there was the mingling of groups that during the trial were formally detached; the prosecuting attorney was talking to the lawyers for the prosecution, and Mrs. Ormsby stood surrounded by her friends.

She had regained her poise, but she was very pale. "He won his case because he is clever, not because he is innocent," she said in a tight-lipped way to those who condoned with her. "Time will show."

Dascome stood alone for only a few moments; then men and women had extricated themselves from the tangled crowd in the room and reached him. Reporters reached his first. "Mr. Dascome—"

Dascome raised his hand. "Nothing! Nothing!"

It was a woman who wormed her way beneath men's elbows and caught his hand. Her hat was awry, her eyes strained—one of those beings who haunt all sensational trials. "It was splendid! I've been here ever since it began—"

"Dascome extricated his hand. "I have noticed your faithful attendance, madam. It reminded me of the waiting vulture." His voice was gritty.

As he turned he encountered a young girl; he looked down into wide admiring eyes. "I knew you were innocent!" she said tearfully. "I just had to tell you so!"

Dascome looked at her gravely, his years of court experience made him a good judge. "Thank you," he said.

The other women melted away and the men closed in. Dascome shook hands with them alike, the genuinely sympathetic and the merely curious. To those who voiced their congratulations he said, "Thank you—thank you." He remembered the name and the face of almost every man who shook hands with him; he had the politician's gift.

He was questioned about the future. What were his plans? It was what the reported wanted to know.

"I have no plans to make public. Thank you—all of you, for your kindness and interest."

It was all that could be drawn from him. He looked at the court room door, still jammed by the exuding crowd. He looked coolly and observantly at the group of which Mrs. Ormsby was the center. Even while his hand was being shaken by some congratulator he noted the various groups and individuals in the room. He longed longest and most frequently at a woman and a man who stood part from others, near the center aisle. The man stood negligently, as if awaiting the woman's pleasure, but she never moved her eyes from Dascome.

There were some odd-looking people who had haunted this trial; a tall, round-shouldered and spectacled man with side whiskers which gave width to his long face, and wearing a frock-coat which gave him a ministerial air, had insinuated himself into the group about Dascome until he stood just behind him. He touched him and Dascome turned his head and their eyes met; then the man moved away. In a few moments the crowd had not senter; Dascome had edged out and was on his way to the door. He passed rapidly those who were waiting for a closer inspection of him; there were women who smiled and bowed to him who were fully as fashionable in appearance as the group who were now moving with Mrs. Ormsby toward the door, and Dascome bowed in return, but unsmilingly.

But to the woman who had never moved her eyes from him and who smiled at him swiftly and brilliantly as he passed, her white face alight, he bowed low and smiled his quick, unexpected smile that drove all somberness from his face. She made a curious motion which the young man with her did not see, for he was looking at Dascome with intense interest; she laid her clasped hands on her breast, her brilliant eyes eloquent. Dascome saw and his eyes lighted. Evidently he knew the woman better than did the general public, though all New York knew Nadine Navarre, the actress. He moved on, her gaze following him.

Valley Grid Rivals Planning Fourth Game At Steubenville

Will Tack On Extra Period If Regular Time Is Not Enough

SHARKEY TRIES TO K. O. REFEREE

Bantamweight Boxer Faces Period of Suspension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Jack Sharkey, recently challenger for the bantam-weight crown, faced a long suspension today as a result of his having lost his temper during a bout with Frankie Fasano last night.

Sharkey dropped in the second round and claimed a foul. Referee Ed Purdy ordered him to get up and fight. Sharkey did—but he made Purdy the object of his attack, and was immediately disqualified.

Sharkey collapsed in his corner later and had to be carried from the ring.

BISONS TO PLAY 19 FLOOR GAMES

Bethany College basketball team will play 19 games on its 1925 schedule which opens January 10. Ten of the games will be played at home and nine on foreign floors. The feature contest of the season is the annual Home Coming Day game with Wesleyan at Bethany February 21.

The schedule is one of the most attractive and hardest ever arranged for a Bison quintet. This year's prospects are bright and hard practice sessions will be started within a short time.

The card follows:

Jan. 10—Waynesburg at home.
Jan. 13—W. & J. at home.
Jan. 17 Marietta at Marietta.
January 20—Duquesne at home.
Jan. 24—Theell at home.
Jan. 31—Waynesburg at Waynesburg.

Feb. 3—Davis and Elkins at home.
Feb. 6—Fairmont at Fairmont.
Feb. 7—Wesleyan at Buckhannon.
Feb. 10—Fairmont at home.
Feb. 12—Theell at Greenville.
Feb. 13—Geneva at Beaver Falls.
Feb. 14—Westminster at New Wil.
Feb. 17—Westminster at home.
Feb. 21—Wesleyan at home.
Feb. 24—W. & J. at Washington.
Feb. 25—Genova at home.
March 3—Duquesne at Pittsburgh.
March 7—Marietta at home.

Five-quarter "Battle to the Death" in Prospect as Clubs Seek Decision; Final Decision on Plans to be Made Today, Officers Announce.

BULLETIN.
Negotiations for the fourth series game have been completed, according to a message to the Review-Tribune at 11:30 a. m. from officials of the Toronto club. The game will be played Sunday at Steubenville.

The Steubenville Ex-Collegians and the Toronto Tigers, rivals for the Ohio valley grid championship, on even terms as a result of one victory apiece, will battle to the finish on next Sunday afternoon at Northend Field, Steubenville, according to tentative arrangements announced this morning by officers of the Toronto club.

When representatives of the two clubs announced a "battle to the finish," they apparently meant just what they said, for the contest will be a five-quarter affair, instead of the customary four period arrangement, unless one of the pairs has a winning score at the end of the allotted period—an invitation in gridiron circles in this part of the country.

The four regulation periods, according to tentative plans, will be of 15-minutes duration each. If, at the end of that time, players, officials and those fans with insatiable football appetites who go to the game are still on their feet and not groggy, providing one of the teams has more points than the other, a fifth quarter of 15-minutes will be tacked on.

Arrangements for the fourth scrap were to be confirmed or rejected at noon today, it was announced.

If plans go through, as it is expected they will, the lineups used by both teams last Sunday will be retained, it is said.

WOOSTER CAGE SQUAD AT WORK

WOOSTER, Dec. 2.—Mid-winter athletic activities began at Wooster college this week when Coach L. C. Boles issued the call for the first varsity basketball practice. Wooster's prospects for this coming season are only fair. While Coach Boles has a nucleus of old letter men around which to build his team, Wooster followers do not anticipate a champion ship team. Last season Wooster's forwards could not locate the basket and this season's court team will depend largely on their ability.

The team will take a pre-season trip to eastern New York. Several games have already been scheduled. The first game of the season will be Dec. 19 when Wooster will play the Firestones at Akron.

The following games have been scheduled for the intercollegiate season:

Jan. 8—Baldwin Wallace.
Jan. 12—Mount Union at Alliance.
Jan. 17—Case.
Jan. 22—Akron at Akron.
Jan. 24—Denison.
Jan. 26—Ashland.
Jan. 31—Case at Cleveland.
Feb. 6—Wittenberg at Springfield.
Feb. 7—Otterbein at Westerville.
Feb. 12—Ohio Wesleyan.
Feb. 14—Denison at Granville.
Feb. 17—Ohio Northern at ADA.
Feb. 19—Oberlin.
Feb. 23—Reserve at Cleveland.
March 7—Mount Union.

Vienna's municipal consul recently purchased 1,867,814 square meters of land, of which 804,675 square meters have been cut up into lots.

SOUTH TO SEE STAR GOLFERS

World's Greatest Will Start Winter Matches in San Antonio.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The world's greatest golfers will start their annual trek through the Southwest in this city February 12, 13 and 14, and by the time they reach Augusta, Ga., they will have completed in tournaments valued at $12,000.

Efforts are being made now to increase the number of tournaments and there is every likelihood that at least $5,000 more will be added to the aggregate purse money.

This will be the fourth Texas Open Championship staged in Davy Crockett's old home town. The four tournaments have cost this city, approximately $25,000, all of which amount has been raised among the business men and citizens.

The first Texas Open Championship was won by Bonnie Bob MacDonald, of Chicago, with Cyril Walker, present National Open Champion, as runner-up. The following year Walter Hagen, present British open title holder and American professional champion, won the Texas open title after an 18-hole playoff of a 72-hole tournament with Bill Hehlhorn, the present Western open champion. Last February Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick-shot wizard, led a field of international stars by nine shots, thus winning $1,500, the largest first prize offered in golfdom.

Who will be the next Texas open champion? is the question being asked among the leading golfers of this country, and since Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, the wonderful British pair, have announced their intention to compete on San Antonio's municipal course for the $6,000 purse against such men as Hagen, Kirkwood, MacDonald, Smith, Bill Melhorn, Leo Diegel and other famous stars, it is problematical as to who will wear the richest crown, from a purse standpoint, in all likelihood.

This year more than 150,000 people played over the San Antonio municipal course during nine months. A year ago last October the city established a 25¢ greens fee which permits a visiting player to play all day long for that sum. This means that the city's coffers have been enriched to the amount of $37,500 in nine months. It is superfluous to say that the municipal golf course is a paying proposition.

In addition to the presence of famous golfing stars, numerous polo teams make their winter headquarters here and since some of the finest polo teams of the Army are stationed at San Antonio, some spirited and keenly contested games are watched without any cost whatsoever to the spectator.

Winter swimming carnivals are staged at the municipal bathing pools and tennis is indulged in throughout the entire winter, where the bitter stings of blizzards are as unknown as an ice-box in Nome.

The team will take a pre-season trip to eastern New York. Several games have already been scheduled. The first game of the season will be Dec. 19 when Wooster will play the Firestones at Akron.

The following games have been scheduled for the intercollegiate season:

Jan. 8—Baldwin Wallace.
Jan. 12—Mount Union at Alliance.
Jan. 17—Case.
Jan. 22—Akron at Akron.
Jan. 24—Denison.
Jan. 26—Ashland.
Jan. 31—Case at Cleveland.
Feb. 6—Wittenberg at Springfield.
Feb. 7—Otterbein at Westerville.
Feb. 12—Ohio Wesleyan.
Feb. 14—Denison at Granville.
Feb. 17—Ohio Northern at ADA.
Feb. 19—Oberlin.
Feb. 23—Reserve at Cleveland.
March 7—Mount Union.

GLENMORE FIVE LANDS OPENER

The Glenmore A. C., coached by Dr. C. F. Kinsey, registered a decisive victory over the Penn Avenue Independents last evening in the Glenmore Hall. The score was 41 to 5.

The effective pass-work of the Glenmores made it difficult for the Independents to get possession of the ball for any long period at a time, and as a result, their scoring suffered. The Glenmores are out for games with any 15-20 years old teams in the district. Dr. Kinsey, in the Little Building, will book games.

The lineups are:

Glenmore—31 Penn Ave.—5

Conn F Wolfe

Glenn F Rose

Foutz C E Rose

Kinsey G Miller

Rose G Argabright

Field goals—Conn 7, Glenn 2, Foutz

C. Kinsey 4, Wolfe.

Fouls—Conn, Foutz 2, Miller.

Referee—Graham; timer—Foutz.

"Y" Quintets Share Floor Tonight With Volleyball Squads

Both the basketball and the volleyball leagues of the "Y" industrial department will have teams in action in a double-play bill tonight on the gym floor.

At 7 o'clock the Laughlin 5 and Babcock-Wilcox volleyball squads will take the floor. The Laughlin 6 and Laughlin 6, E. E., volleyball artists will start at 7:30.

The basketball entertainment will be furnished by the Liverpool Motors and the Trotters quintet, these squads being scheduled for the event.

League officials point out to team managers that all games necessarily will have to start and stop on schedule time in order that the card can be played through.

SIX-DAY RIDERS GOING STRONG

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The team of Deruyter and Bellon was leading by one lap today after a series of mad sprints during the night in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden. Seven teams were tied for second place. All of the teams, however, still were far behind the record.

The team of Goulet and Horan, Bellon and Deruyter, Hanley and McBeath and Benzatto and Taylor regained the lap they had lost the night before.

Despite the grueling grind, all fifteen teams which started Sunday night, still were riding about the saucer today.

SHARKEY TRIES TO K.O. REFEREE

Bantamweight Boxer Faces Period of Suspension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Jack Sharkey, recently challenger for the bantamweight crown, faced a long suspension today as a result of his having lost his temper during a bout with Frankie Fasano last night.

Sharkey dropped in the second round and claimed a foul. Referee Ed Purdy ordered him to get up and fight. Sharkey did—but he made Purdy the object of his attack, and was immediately disqualified.

Sharkey collapsed in his corner later and had to be carried from the ring.

BISONS TO PLAY 19 FLOOR GAMES

Bethany College basketball team will play 19 games on its 1925 schedule which opens January 10. Ten of the games will be played at home and nine on foreign floors. The feature contest of the season is the annual Home Coming Day game with Wesleyan at Bethany February 21.

The schedule is one of the most attractive and hardest ever arranged for a Bison quintet. This year's prospects are bright and hard practice sessions will be started within a short time.

The card follows:

Jan. 10—Waynesburg at home.
Jan. 13—W. & J. at home.
Jan. 17—Marietta at Marietta.

SOUTH TO SEE STAR GOLFERS

World's Greatest Will Start Winter Matches in San Antonio.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The world's greatest golfers will start their annual trek through the Southwest in this city February 12, 13 and 14, and by the time they reach Augusta, Ga., they will have completed in tournaments valued at $12,000.

Efforts are being made now to increase the number of tournaments and there is every likelihood that at least $5,000 more will be added to the aggregate purse money.

This will be the fourth Texas Open Championship staged in Davy Crockett's old home town. The four tournaments have cost this city, approximately, $25,000, all of which amount has been raised among the business men and citizens.

The first Texas Open Championship was won by Bonnie Bob MacDonald, of Chicago, with Cyril Walker, president National Open Champion, as runner-up. The following year Walter Haze, present British open title holder and American professional champion, won the Texas open title after an 18-hole playoff of a 72-hole tie with Bill Heilborn, the present Western open champion. Last February Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick-shot wizard, led a field of international stars by nine shots, thus winning $1,500, the largest first prize given in goldfish.

When representatives of the two clubs announced a "battle to the death," they apparently meant just what they said, for the contest will be a five-quarter affair, instead of the customary four period arrangement, unless one of the pair has a winning score at the end of the allotted period—an invitation in gridiron circles in this part of the country.

The four regulation periods, according to tentative plans, will be of 15-minutes duration, each. If, at the end of that time, players, officials and those fans with insatiable football appetites who go to the game are still on their feet and not groggy, providing one of the teams has more points than the other, a fifth quarter of 10-minutes will be tacked on.

Arrangements for the fourth scrap were to be confirmed or rejected at noon today, it was announced.

If plans go through, as it is expected they will, the lineups used by both teams last Sunday will be retained, it is said.

WOOSTER CAGE SQUAD AT WORK

WOOSTER, Dec. 2.—Mid-winter athletic activities began at Wooster college this week when Coach L. C. Boles issued the call for the first varsity basketball practice. Wooster's prospects for this coming season are only fair. While Coach Boles has a nucleus of old letter men around which to build his team, Wooster followers do not anticipate a championship team. Last season Wooster's forwards could not locate the basket and this season's court team will depend largely on their ability.

The team will take a pre-season trip to eastern New York. Several games have already been scheduled. The first game of the season will be Dec. 19 when Wooster will play the Firestones at Akron.

The following games have been scheduled for the intercollegiate season:

Jan. 8—Baldwin Wallace.
Jan. 12—Mount Union at Alliance.
Jan. 17—Case.
Jan. 22—Akron at Akron.
Jan. 24—Denison.
Jan. 26—Ashland.
Jan. 31—Case at Cleveland.
Feb. 6—Wittenberg at Springfield.
Feb. 7—Otterbein at Westerville.
Feb. 12—Ohio Wesleyan.
Feb. 14—Denison at Granville.
Feb. 17—Ohio Northern at Ada.
Feb. 19—Oberlin.
Feb. 28—Reserve at Cleveland.
March 7—Mount Union.

AT EIGHTY-THREE THIS "POP GEERS" IS DRIVING AND TRAINING TROTTERS

By Norman E. Brown.

"Pop" Geers, grand old man of the grand circuit and most famous of sulky drivers, passed on this year. But there lives in Osage, Iowa, a man who carries on the spirit of "Pop," whose love for the trotting game and service in it makes him a successor to the lovable old "Pop."

That man is John Kathan.

Sixty-five years ago—in the late summer of 1859—Kathan drove his first horses to sulky. He appeared at county fairs in northern New York state.

Today, as he nears his eighty-fourth birthday, he is still driving at county fairs around Iowa. And he hopes to observe his eighty-fourth birthday next March and the advent of his sixty-sixth year in the game by developing three colts into winning horses for the 1925 fairs.

Those three—you may hear of them later—are The Flapper, Pal O'Mine and Peter Heddon. He is working them these days at the Mitten county fair grounds, Osage.

Last summer Kathan drove horses in 14 races and won two of them. He has driven horses on virtually every track east of the Mississippi but of late years confines his activities mainly to Iowa tracks. He has become one of the picturesque figures of the annual state fair at Des Moines.

Among the horses he has driven are Patola, 2:13½, with which he won 15 races in 16 starts in one season; Dulce, 2:18, Roy, the Kid, 2:04½; Buck Muscoite, 2:07½, G. W., 2:14½; Alie Dade, 2:14; Blackford, 2:13½; Victor L., 2:14½; Dennis Sullivan, 2:13½, and Cvet Wind, 2:15½.

He has three children, Charles, four times mayor of Osage; Bert, assistant postmaster, and Kitty, a teacher in the public schools.

ROCKY'S MANAGER IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Indefinite suspension of Dan Rogers, manager of "Rocky" Kansas, Buffalo lightweight champion contender, was followed today by an announcement by the boxing commission that it had made an example of Rogers to show it means business by its edict against coaching of fighters after the latter have gone into action.

Rogers was rather noisy in Kansas' corner, when the Buffalo boxer fought Jack Bernstein in Buffalo last week, commissioners said.

Boxing commission deputies have been ordered to eject any second who becomes objectionable," the commission announcement said. "We intend that bouts in New York state shall be conducted in an orderly manner."

DEMPSEY-GIBBONS SCRAP POSTPONED

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 3.—Tentative plans for a return bout between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons were announced here today by Jack Doyle, Vernon promoter.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, said he had received no offer as yet from Doyle, but was ready to accept anything that looked attractive.

The bout would be held May 29, Doyle said.

AT EIGHTY-THREE THIS "POP GEERS" IS DRIVING AND TRAINING TROTTERS

By Norman E. Brown.

"Pop" Geers, grand old man of the grand circuit and most famous of sulky drivers, passed on this year. But there lives in Osage, Iowa, a man who carries on the spirit of "Pop," whose love for the trotting game and drive in it makes him a successor to the lovable old "Pop."

That man is John Kathan.

Sixty-five years ago—in the late summer of 1859—Kathan drove his first horses to sulky. He appeared at county fairs in northern New York state.

Today, as he nears his eighty-fourth birthday, he is still driving at county fairs around Iowa. And he hopes to observe his eighty-fourth birthday next March and the advent of his sixty-sixth year in the game by developing three colts into winning horses for the 1925 fairs.

Those three—you may hear of them later—are The Flapper, Pal O'Mine and Peter Heddon. He is working them these days at the Mitten county fair grounds, Osage.

Last summer Kathan drove horses in 14 races and won two of them. He has driven horses on virtually every track east of the Mississippi but of late years confines his activities mainly to Iowa tracks. He has become one of the picturesque figures of the annual state fair at Des Moines.

Among the horses he has driven are Patola, 2:13½, with which he won 15 races in 16 starts in one season; Dulcie, 2:18, Roy, the Kid, 2:04½, Buck Muscoite, 2:07½, G. W., 2:14½, Allie Dale, 2:14, Blackford, 2:13½, Victor L., 2:14½, Dennis Sullivan, 2:13½, and Cvet Wind, 2:15½. He has three children, Charles, four times mayor of Osage; Bert, assistant postmaster, and Kitty, a teacher in the public schools.

John Kathan.

ROCKY'S MANAGER IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Indefinite suspension of Dan Rogers, manager of "Rocky" Kansas, Buffalo lightweight champion contender, was followed today by an announcement by the boxing commission that it had made an example of Rogers to show it means business by its edict against coaching of fighters after the latter have gone into action.

Rogers was rather noisy in Kansas' corner, when the Buffalo boxer fought Jack Bernstein in Buffalo last week, commissioners said.

Boxing commission deputies have been ordered to eject any second who becomes objectionable," the commission announcement said. "We intend that bouts in New York state shall be conducted in an orderly manner."

DEMPSEY-GIBBONS SCRAP POSTPONED

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 3.—Tentative plans for a return bout between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons were announced here today by Jack Doyle, Vernon promoter.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, said he had received no offer as yet from Doyle, but was ready to accept anything that looked attractive.

The bout would be held May 29, Doyle said.

Valley Grid Rivals Planning Fourth Game At Steubenville

Will Tack On Extra Period If Regular Time Is Not Enough

SHARKEY TRIES TO K. O. REFEREE

Bantamweight Boxer Faces Period of Suspension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Jack Sharkey, recently challenger for the bantam-weight crown, faced a long suspension today as a result of his having lost his temper during a bout with Frankie Fusano last night.

Sharkey dropped in the second round and claimed a foul. Referee Ed Purdy ordered him to get up and fight. Sharkey did—but he made Purdy the object of his attack, and was immediately disqualified.

Sharkey collapsed in his corner ring and had to be carried from the ring.

BISONS TO PLAY 19 FLOOR GAMES

Bethany College basketball team will play 19 games on its 1925 schedule which opens January 10. Ten of the games will be played at home and nine on foreign floors. The feature contest of the season is the annual Home Coming Day game with Wesleyan at Bethany February 21.

The schedule is one of the most attractive and hardest ever arranged for a Bison quintet. This year's prospects are bright and hard practice sessions will be started within a short time.

The card follows:

Jan. 10—Waynesburg at home.
Jan. 13—W. & J. at home.
Jan. 17—Marietta at Marietta.
January 20—Duquesne at home.
Jan. 24—Thell at home.
Jan. 31—Waynesburg at Waynesburg.

Feb. 3—Davis and Elkins at home.

Feb. 24—W. & J. at Washington.
Feb. 25—Geneva at home.
March 3—Duquesne at Pittsburgh.
March 7—Marietta at home.

Five-quarter "Battle to the Death" in Prospect as Clubs Seek Decision; Final Decision on Plans to be Made Today, Officers Announce.

BULLETIN.
Negotiations for the fourth series game have been completed, according to a message to the Review-Tribune at 11:30 a. m. from officials of the Toronto club. The game will be played Sunday at Steubenville.

The Steubenville Ex-Collegians and the Toronto Tigers, rivals for the Ohio valley grid championship, on even terms as a result of one victory apiece will battle to the finish on next Sunday afternoon at Northend Field, Steubenville, according to tentative arrangements announced this morning by officials of the Toronto club.

When representatives of the two clubs announced a "battle to the finish," they apparently meant just what they said, for the contest will be a five-quarter affair, instead of the customary four period arrangement, unless one of the pair has a winning score at the end of the allotted period—an invitation in gridiron circles in this part of the country.

The four regulation periods, according to tentative plans, will be of 15-minute duration each. If, at the end of that time, players, officials and those fans with insatiable football appetites who go to the game are still on their feet and not groggy, providing one of the teams has more points than the other, a fifth quarter of 10 minutes will be tacked on.

Arrangements for the fourth scrap were to be confirmed or rejected at noon today, it was announced.

If plans go through, as it is expected they will, the lineups used by both teams last Sunday will be retained, it is said.

WOOSTER CAGE SQUAD AT WORK

WOOSTER, Dec. 2.—Mid-winter athletic activities began at Wooster college this week when Coach L. C. Boles issued the call for the first varsity basketball practice. Wooster's prospects for this coming season are only fair. While Coach Boles has a nucleus of old letter men around which to build his team, Wooster followers do not anticipate a championship team. Last season Wooster's forwards could not locate the basket and this season's court team will depend largely on their ability.

The team will take a pre-season trip to eastern New York. Several games have already been scheduled. The first game of the season will be Dec. 19 when Wooster will play the Firestones at Akron.

The following games have been scheduled for the intercollegiate season:

Jan. 8—Baldwin Wallace.
Jan. 12—Mount Union at Alliance.
Jan. 17—Case.
Jan. 22—Akron at Akron.
Jan. 24—Denison.
Jan. 26—Ashland.
Jan. 31—Case at Cleveland.
Feb. 6—Wittenberg at Springfield.
Feb. 7—Otterbein at Westerville.
Feb. 12—Ohio Wesleyan.
Feb. 14—Denison at Granville.
Feb. 17—Ohio Northern at Ada.
Feb. 19—Oberlin.
Feb. 23—Reserve at Cleveland.
March 7—Mount Union.

Vienna's municipal consul recently purchased 1,867,814 square meters of land, of which 804,675 square meters have been cut up into lots.

SOUTH TO SEE STAR GOLFERS

World's Greatest Will Start Winter Matches in San Antonio.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The world's greatest golfers will start their annual trek through the Southland in this city February 12, 13 and 14, and by the time they reach Augusta, Ga., they will have completed in tournaments valued at $12,000.

Efforts are being made now to increase the number of tournaments and there is every likelihood that at least $5,000 more will be added to the aggregate purse money.

This will be the fourth Texas Open Championship staged in Davy Crockett's old home town. The four tournaments have cost this city, approximately, $25,000, all of which amount has been raised among the business men and citizens.

The first Texas Open Championship was won by Bonnie Bob MacDonald, of Chicago, with Cyril Walker, present National Open Champion, as runner-up. The following year Walter Hagen, present British open title holder and American professional champion, won the Texas open title after an 18-hole playoff of a 72-hole tie with Bill Heihorn, the present Western open champion. Last February Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick-shot wizard, led a field of international stars by nine shots, thus winning $1,500, the largest first prize offered in golfdom.

Who will be the next Texas open champion? is the question being asked among the leading golfers of this country, and since Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, the wonderful British pair, have announced their intention to compete on San Antonio's municipal course for the $6,000 purse against such men as Hagen, Kirkwood, MacDonald, Smith, Bill Heihorn, Leo Diegel and other famous stars, it is problematical as to who will wear the richest crown, from a purse standpoint, in all linkdom.

This year more than 150,000 people played over the San Antonio municipal course during nine months. A year ago last October the city established a 25¢ greens fee which permits a visiting player to play all day long for that sum. This means that the city's coffers have been enriched to the amount of $37,500 in nine months.

It is superfluous to say that the municipal golf course is a paying proposition.

In addition to the presence of famous golfer stars, numerous polo teams make their winter headquarters here and since some of the finest polo teams of the Army are stationed at San Antonio, some spirited and keenly contested games are watched, without any cost whatsoever to the spectator.

Winter swimming carnivals are staged at the municipal bathing pools and tennis is indulged in throughout the entire winter, where the bitter stings of blizzards are as unknown as an ice-box in Nome.

GLENMORE FIVE LANDS OPENER

The Glenmore A. C., coached by Dr. C. F. Kinsey, registered a decisive victory over the Penn Avenue Independents last evening in the Glenmore hall. The score was 31 to 5.

The effective pass-work of the Glenmores made it difficult for the Independents to get possession of the ball for any long period at a time and as a result, their scoring suffered.

The Glenmores are out for games with any 15-20 year old teams in the district.

Dr. Kinsey, in the Little Building, will book games.

The lineups:—

Glenmore—31	Penn Ave.—5
Conn.....F.....Wolfe	Glenn.....F.....Rose
Fouts.....C.....E. Rose	Kinsey.....G.....Miller
Rose.....G.....Arbogast

Field goals—Conn 7, Glenn 2, Fouts 2, Kinsey 4, Wolfe.

Fouls—Conn, Fouts 2, Miller.

Referee—Graham; timer—Fouts.

"Y" Quintets Share Floor Tonight With Volleyball Squads

Both the basketball and the volleyball leagues of the "Y" industrial department will have teams in action in a double-bill tonight on the gym floor.

At 7 o'clock the Laughlin 5 and Babcock-Wilcox volleyball squads will take the floor. The Laughlin 6 and Laughlin 6, volleyball artists will start at 7:30.

The basketball entertainment will be furnished by the Liverpool Motors and the Trotters quintet, these squads being scheduled for the event.

League officials point out to team managers that all games necessarily will have to start and stop on schedule time in order that the card can be played through.

SIX-DAY RIDERS GOING STRONG

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The team of Deruyter and Belloni was leading by one lap today after a series of mad sprints during the night in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden. Seven teams were tied for second place. All of the teams, however, still were for behind the record.

The team of Goulet and Horan, Belloni and Deruyter, Hanley and McBeath and Benzatto, and Taylor regained the lap they had lost the night before.

Despite the grueling grind, all fifteen teams which started Sunday night, still were riding about the saucier today.

PRESBYTERIAN PASSERS WIN

Defeat Lutheran Church Five, 32 to 15, at High Gym.

With English and Liebschner, high school stars, in the lineup, the First Presbyterian church passers of the Sunday school league easily defeated the Lutherans, 32 to 15, last evening at the high school gymnasium.

The game was fast all the way, but the Lutherans found the pace too rapid and were five points behind at the outset of the contest before they overtaken their first tally. The Presbyterians led by score of 8 to 1 at the end of the first period.

In capturing high score honors with a total of 232 points the Mountaineers eleven won eight and lost one game. Errors of commission—fumbles—cost the team coached by Dr. C. W. Spears a victory over Pitt as backs fumbled twice as they were going over the Panther goal. Pitt won, 14-7.

Ten Mountaineers are listed on the scoring chart. Lopacker of Bethany college is responsible for two of West Virginia's points. The Spearmen themselves scored 41 touchowns and kicked 34 goals for 280 points.

Bruder topped his teammates with 12 touchdowns and five of six goals for a 77 point total. Farley was second with nine touchdowns and 11 of 13 goals for 65 points. Ekberg was third with nine goals for 54 points. Captain Graham was fifth with one touchdown and 15 of 19 goals for 21 points. Tied with Graham for fifth place is Nardacci, who scored three touchdowns and kicked three goals in three attempts. Julian Murkin is sixth with 18 points—scoring three touchdowns in the opening game against Wesleyan. Oliker, Ed Morrison, Pflieger and Stinebicker each scored one touchdown.

Although kept busy to score 41 touchdowns in nine games and thus outrank all teams in the matter of points scored the Mountaineers developed a strong defense. They had only 47 points scored on them during the season. The fact that 20 of these points were the result of long passes, six of the offspring of two field goals, two from a safety and another six the outcome of a long 70-yard run from scrimmage speaks volumes for the light line.

Mountaineer fans believe that West Virginia deserves a place among the leaders and look for continued success in 1925 regardless of the opposition.

SHARKEY TRIES TO K. O. REFEREE

Bantamweight Boxer Faces Period of Suspension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Jack Sharkey, recently challenger for the bantamweight crown, faced a long suspension today as a result of his having lost his temper during a bout with Franklin Fusano last night.

Sharkey dropped in the second round and claimed a foul. Referee Ed Purdy ordered him to get up and fight. Sharkey did—but he made Purdy the object of his attack, and was immediately disqualified.

Sharkey collapsed in his corner later and had to be carried from the ring.

BISONS TO PLAY 19 FLOOR GAMES

Bethany College basketball team will play 19 games on its 1925 schedule which opens January 10. Ten of the games will be played at home and nine on foreign floors. The feature contest of the season is the annual Home Coming Day game with Wesleyan at Bethany February 21.

The schedule is one of the most attractive and hardest ever arranged for a Bison quintet. This year's prospects are bright and hard practice sessions will be started within a short time.

The card follows:

Jan. 10—Waynesburg at home.
Jan. 13—W. & J. at home.
Jan. 17—Marietta at Marietta.

Five-quarter "Battle to the Death" in Prospect as Clubs Seek Decision; Final Decision on Plans to be Made Today, Officers Announce.

BULLETIN.
Negotiations for the fourth series game have been completed, according to a message to the Review-Tribune at 11:30 a. m. from officials of the Toronto club. The game will be played Sunday at Steubenville.

The Steubenville Ex-Collegians and the Toronto Tigers, rivals for the Ohio valley grid championship, on even terms as a result of one victory apiece, will battle to the finish on next Sunday afternoon at Northend Field, Steubenville, according to tentative arrangements announced this morning by officials of the Toronto club.

When representatives of the two clubs announced a "battle to the finish", they apparently meant just what they said, for the contest will be a five-quarter affair, instead of the customary four period arrangement, unless one of the pair has a winning score at the end of the allotted period plus an invitation in gridiron circles to the next Texas Open champion?

The four regulation periods, according to tentative plans, will be of 15-minutes duration, each. If, at the end of that time, players, officials and those fans with insatiable football appetites who go to the game are still on their feet and not groggy, providing one of the teams has more points than the other, a fifth quarter of 10-minutes will be tacked on.

Arrangements for the fourth scrap were to be confirmed or rejected at noon today, it was announced.

If plans go through, as it is expected they will, the lineups used by both teams last Sunday will be retained, it is said.

WOOSTER CAGE SQUAD AT WORK

WOOSTER, Dec. 2.—Mid-winter athletic activities began at Wooster college this week when Coach L. C. Boles issued the call for the first varsity basketball practice. Wooster's prospects for this coming season are only fair. While Coach Boles has a nucleus of old letter men around which to build his team, Wooster followers do not anticipate a championship team. Last season Wooster's forwards could not locate the basket and this season's court team will depend largely on their ability.

The team will take a pre-season trip to eastern New York. Several games have already been scheduled. The first game of the season will be Dec. 19 when Wooster will play the Firestones at Akron.

The following games have been scheduled for the intercollegiate season:

Jan. 8—Baldwin Wallace.
Jan. 12—Mount Union at Alliance.
Jan. 17—Case.
Jan. 22—Akron at Akron.
Jan. 24—Denison.
Jan. 26—Ashland.
Jan. 31—Case at Cleveland.
Feb. 6—Wittenberg at Springfield.
Feb. 7—Otterbein at Westerville.
Feb. 12—Ohio Wesleyan.
Feb. 14—Denison at Granville.
Feb. 17—Ohio Northern at Ada.
Feb. 19—Oberlin.
Feb. 28—Reserve at Cleveland.
March 7—Mount Union.

Vienna's municipal consul recently purchased 1,867,814 square meters of land, of which 804,675 square meters have been cut up into lots.

The Glenmore A. C., coached by Dr. C. F. Kinsey, registered a decisive victory over the Penn Avenue Independents last evening in the Glenmore hall. The score was 31 to 5.

The effective pass-work of the Glenmores made it difficult for the Independents to get possession of the ball for any long period at a time and, as a result, their scoring suffered.

The Glenmores are out for games with any 15-20 year old teams in the district. Dr. Kinsey, in the Little Building, will book games.

The lineups:

Glenmore—31 Penn Ave.—5

Conn. F. Wolfe.
Glenn. F. Rose.
Fouts. C. E. Rose.
Kinsey. G. Miller.
Rose. G. Argabrite

Field goals—Conn 7, Glenn 2, Fouts 1, Kinsey 4, Wolfe.
Fouls—Conn, Fouts 2, Miller.
Referee—Graham; timer—Fouts.

"Y" Quintets Share Floor Tonight With Volleyball Squads

Both the basketball and the volleyball leagues of the "Y" Industrial department will have teams in action in a double-bill tonight on the gym floor.

At 7 o'clock the Laughlin 5 and Babcock-Wilcox volleyball squads will take the floor. The Laughlin 6 and Laughlin, E. E., volleyball artists will start at 7:30.

The basketball entertainment will be furnished by the Liverpool Motors and the Trotters quintet, these squads being scheduled for the event.

League officials point out to team managers that all games necessarily will have to start and stop on schedule in order that the card can be played through.

SIX-DAY RIDERS GOING STRONG

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The team of Deruyter and Belloni was leading by one lap today after a series of mad sprints during the night in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden. Seven teams were tied for second place. All of the teams, however, still were far behind the record.

The team of Goulet and Horan, Beloni and Deruyter, Hanley and McHeath and Benzatto and Taylor regained the lap they had lost the night before.

Despite the grueling grind, all fifteen teams which started Sunday night, still were riding about the saucer today.

AT EIGHTY-THREE THIS "POP GEERS" IS DRIVING AND TRAINING TROTTERS

By Norman E. Brown.

"Pop" Geers, grand old man of the grand circuit and most famous of sulky drivers, passed on this year. But there lives in Osage, Iowa, a man who carries on the spirit of "Pop," whose love for the trotting game and drive in it makes him a successor to the lovable old "Pop."

That man is John Kathan.

Sixty-five years ago—in the late summer of 1859—Kathan drove his first horses to sulky. He appeared at county fairs in northern New York state.

Today, as he nears his eighty-fourth birthday, he is still driving at county fairs around Iowa. And he hopes to observe his eighty-fourth birthday next March and the advent of his sixty-sixth year in the game by developing three colts into winning horses for the 1925 fairs.

Those three—you may hear of them later—are The Flapper, Pal O'Mine and Peter Heddon. He is working them these days at the Mitchell county fair grounds, Osage.

Last summer Kathan drove horses in 14 races and won two of them. He has driven horses on virtually every track east of the Mississippi but of late years confines his activities mainly to Iowa tracks. He has become one of the picturesque figures of the annual state fair at Des Moines.

Among the horses he has driven are Patola, 2:13½, with which he won 15 races in 16 starts in one season; Dulce, 2:18, Roy, the Kid, 2:04½; Buck Muscote, 2:07½, G. W., 2:14½; Allie Dade, 2:14; Blackford, 2:13½; Victor L., 2:14½; Dennis Sullivan, 2:13½; and Cuet Wind, 2:15½.

He has three children, Charles, four times mayor of Osage; Bert, assistant postmaster, and Kitty, a teacher in the public schools.

John Kathan.

ROCKY'S MANAGER IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Indefinite suspension of Dan Rogers, manager of "Rocky" Kansas, Buffalo lightweight champion contender, was followed today by an announcement by the boxing commission that it had made an example of Rogers to show it means business by its edict against coaching of fighters after the latter have gone into action.

Rogers was rather noisy in Kansas' corner, when the Buffalo boxer fought Jack Bernstein in Buffalo last week, commissioners said.

"Boxing commission deputies have been ordered to eject any second who becomes objectionable," the commission announcement said. "We intend that bouts in New York state shall be conducted in an orderly manner."

DEMSEY-GIBBONS SCRAP POSTPONED

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 3.—Tentative plans for a return bout between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons were announced here today by Jack Doyle, Vernon promoter.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, said he had received no offer as yet from Doyle, but was ready to accept anything that looked attractive.

The bout would be held May 29, Doyle said.

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

Some fans and writers are criticizing Connie Mack's judgment in paying $60,000 and five players for Gordon Cochrane, star young backstop of the Portland Pacific Coast League club.

They point out what a bust Paul Strand proved after Mack had squandered a fortune on him. They also hold up other striking examples.

Mack says nothing but awaits results.

He felt last fall that Cy Perkins, once one of the great catchers of the game and destined to set a career equal to those of Ray Schalk and Steve O'Neill, was a disappointment in 1924. He did not want to take a chance on Perkins going through another off season. His scouts reported that Cochrane could catch big league pitching without a doubt and could be counted on to fathom major league hurling if given time.

Benny Burns, young pitcher, and Harry Riconda, young third sacker, two of the players sent to the coast in the deal, are not necessarily lost to the Mackmen. Owner Ben Shibe of the Philadelphia club is interested in the Portland team.

Bob Hasty, lengthy pitcher from Georgia another man tossed in, had opportunities galore to shine for Connie but could not win consistently. Mack wants a winning team next season—has grown quite tired of happy-go-lucky outfit that go wild one day and into a dumpy funk the next. Hasty did not fit in with his plans for next season.

Connie's pitching staff next season will consist mainly of young players and comparative newcomers. A young catcher, full of fight and pep, may prove a better man behind the bat than a more experienced man who is not at his best.

Mack paid $100,000 for Lefty Grove, star southpaw of the Baltimore International League club. He figured that being—in that depth he might just as well go farther and get catcher who would work into a good batter mate for the six-figure pitcher.

The dope now is that Owner Ball and Manager Sisler of the Browns will go to the annual meeting of the big leagues in December with a soap box and a couple of oil lamps, set up their paraphernalia in a corner of the hotel lobby and auction off Urban Shocker, red shirted and much sold pitcher. They figure that, in an open forum of the moguls, they can get the 'em' money.

May be, but when the price they want is considered, it would appear that only two clubs in the American League can enter the bidding—the Yankees and Senators. Perhaps the White Sox bosses might decide to slap a mortgage on the north side of Chicago and put in a bid.

The chances are slim that the A. L. moguls would let him go out of the league. So the bidding may not be so brisk when the "Hear Yez, Hear Yez" is pulled off.

Johnny Dundee waited 13 years for a ring title before winning the good weight championship. "Kid" Sullivan, who won the junior lightweight title from Dundee, waited 13 years before he got a crack at even so much of a championship as that one.

And, judging by the lack of interest

Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard show regarding ring engagements these days it may be thirteen years before the fans see either one of the pretty boys in the ring again.

Dempsey will need a lot of nerve to give his occupation as that of "boxer" when the 1925 census man visits the door of his movie headquarters.
